CIVIC MATTERS UP TO KIWANIS CLUB FOR ARGUMENT

Tag Day, Sewage Question and Other Topics Cause Enthusiastic Session

Pep enough to almost wreck the Broadway Inn, at 637 East Broadway, was exploded yesterday noon at the weekly luncheon of the Glendale Kiwanis club.

Lon Haddock of the realty firm of Haddock & Nibley, Los Angeles, made an enthusiastic address on the future of California.

A lively interest was displayed in the tag day activities and a number of blue tags were bought by those present at $1.00 apiece.

Publicity on the sewer problem was discussed, and ways and means of getting the proposition to the attention of the voters were commented upon. No definite action was taken.

C. B. Murphy, of 320 East Dryden street, reminded those present that Glendale will have no chance to connect with the Los Angeles outfall sewer system until 1927, and that meanwhile there is, in his opinion, only one practical site available for a sewage disposal plant.

Gets Most Out of Life

The spirit of energy and cooperation shown by the Kiwanis club was praised highly by Mr. Haddock. He denounced the man who desires to be a hermit or a recluse, and said that such a desire usually indicated a selfish, sullen attitude.

"The man who lives most with his fellows and gives most of himself to his fellows, is the man who gets the most out of life," he remarked. "That individual gets the greatest good who performs the greatest service."

As much building is now in progress in Los Angeles, according to Mr. Haddock, as in New York City, Chicago and San Francisco combined. This statement was greeted with applause.

The attendance prize for the luncheon was won by John L. Watson, of 530 North Central avenue. The silent boost was a booklet on Glendale, distributed by Hayward & McCartney, of 142 South Brand boulevard.

Invitations to attend an outing at San Diego over the week-end and to attend the ceremonies attendant to the presentation of the charter to the Alhambra club were read by Don H. Webb.

Represents Burbank

The newly organized Burbank Kiwanis club was represented by Dave Bricker and Thidow O'Connel.

Best wishes were extended to L. W. McClellan, of 115 West Harvard street, whose departure to enter business in San Diego was announced. He expressed his regret at leaving Glendale.

WILL NEED HELP IN YEARLY RUSH

Postoffice Now Receiving Applications for Work at Holiday Time

That the Chrstmas season is approaching, is evidenced by the fact that the Glendale postoffice is now receiving applications for positions during the holiday rush, according to Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson.

Such applications should be placed not later than November 1 with the superintendent of mails at the local postoffice, it is announced.

Preference will be shown former postoffice employes experienced in the handling of mails, for temporary positions. For carriers ability to handle an automobile will be an important item, it is announced.

Applicants must state thir age, former experience, present occupation and date when ready to assume the duties. They are requested to prepare their written applications and present them in person.

PROPOSES CONFERENCE OF NATIONS OVER OPIUM

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—A resolution calling for a conference of all nations which produce opium, with a view to limiting the production of the drug, will be introduced in the House as soon as Congress re-convenes, it was announced today by Representative Stephens G. Porter, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, following a conference with President Harding at the White House.

JOINT SESSION OF W. C. T. U. IS HELD

Glendale and Eagle Rock In Meeting; Wright Measure Under Consideration

Discussion and consideration of the Wright bill and the amendments to come before the people at the November election, occupied the major part of the time yesterday afternoon at the joint meeting of the Glendale and Eagle Rock W. C. T. U. organization, with Mrs. Elizabeth Hall at her delightful new home at 127 North Grandview avenue, Eagle Rock.

Mrs. Ruby J. Smart, president of the Glendale W. C. T. U., presided over the gathering of thirty-five women and directed the discussion of the subjects considered. Previous to the meeting there was a conference of members of the committee working on the campaign to further the interests of the Wright bill and amendments.

Address and Music

During the afternoon Mrs. Allie Wheeler of Los Angeles, prominent W. C. T. U. worker and director of music for the state organization, addressed the company and entertained them with a vocal solo.

Mrs. Merrill, president of the Eagle Rock W. C. T. U., was also one of the speakers.

It was announced that the campaign committee members are to meet Monday afternoon, October 2, at the home of Mrs. R. W. Mottern at 211 North Adams street, Glendale. The meeting is called for 2 o'clock and the chief feature of business will be arrangements for a conference of the heads of all women's organizations in the city to discuss the Wright bill and amendments to be voted on in November.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and Mrs. Hall served iced watermelon to her guests.

Police Benefit Fund Is Under Discussion

A sick and relief benefit fund was the topic of discussion at the city hall yesterday afternoon by members of the Glendale police department.

The special meeting was attended by a number of the local policemen. Chief J. D. Fraser presided and Desk Sergeant J. H. Simmons was elected secretary.

A number of suggestions were made in regard to the establishment of such a fund. Among them was one that all rewards for the performance of police work should be placed in the common treasury.

A committee to investigate the subject was appointed. Its members are: A. Kerns, 1135 Raymond street; J. H. Simmons, 707 North Kenwood street; M. H. Collins, 326 North Adams street; W. J. Royls, 347 West Maple street and Louis Nunn, 218 West Colorado street.

A series of entertainments was suggested and a "grand ball" was discussed. To make arrangements for this a committee was selected composed of Lieut. Joe Griffin, 205 West Acacia avenue; C. E. Epps, 1518 East Wilson avenue; D. L. Fleming, 401 West Wilson avenue; Ralph Baugh, 461 West Dryden street; and James Paxton, 555 Del Mar street.

NAVY ELEVENS TO BATTLE HERE ON ARMISTICE DAY

Local Legion Post Arranging for Big Football Game on School Campus

An Armistice day football game for Glendale between teams from the Pacific fleet!

This was the announcement made last night at the regular weekly meeting of Glendale Post No. 127, American legion, under whose auspices the game is to be staged. The contest will be played on the local high school campus, where several thousand extra seats will be erected within the near future.

Prior to the main event a preliminary game will take place between the Glendale Union high school lightweights and another squad of midgets yet to be selected. Complete details of the affair will be made public at an early date.

Secure More Members

The following former service men were initiated into the Glendale post at last night's meeting: David L. Sanker, Alfred Eugene Baron, Alvadus H. Mayne, Don B. Beale, Harlow W. Beach and Marion P. Vestal. During the initiatory work the place of Second Vice Commander Jesse Flower, who was unavoidably absent, was taken by C. B. Guthrie.

James W. Everington, chairman of the "ten million dollar bond issue" campaign, made a report of the work accomplished in his department during the past week. At the suggestion of Colonel Everington various legionnaires were appointed to endeavor to place the issue, which involves propositions No. 1 and No. 2 on the coming November 7 ballot, before every organization in the city of Glendale. A report will be made at next week's meeting as to the number of societies and clubs which will have endorsed the proposition.

New Constitution

Mitchell Frug, a member of the constitution and by-laws committee, presented the newly drawn up post constitution, a copy of which is to be sent to the headquarters of both the state and national legion organization. It will be voted on for the adoption by Glendale Post at the next regular meeting.

Prior to adjournment it was announced that next Friday night's meeting will be featured by several talks from members of the local organization of the Knights of Pythias, the subjects of the talks to be made public at a later date.

ANNOUNCE DATES FOR PAYING TAXES

First Installment Will Be Due October 16; Becomes Delinquent Dec. 4

With the arrival of fall, property owners must give serious consideration to the paying of taxes and County Tax Collector W. O. Welch has issued information of paramount interest to Glendale property owners.

According to the announcement made by Mr. Welch, Los Angeles county taxes become due and payable as follows:

The first installment includes all taxes on personal property secured by real property and one-half of taxes on real property is due and payable Monday, October 16, 1922.

The second installment consists of the remaining one-half of the taxes on real property and is due and payale Monday, January 8, 1923.

Get Your Tax Bills

The notice states that the first installment becomes delinquent at 6 o'clock on the afternoon of December 4. The second installment becomes delinquent at 6 o'clock on the afternoon of April 30, 1923.

A penalty of 15 per cent is fixed on the first installment if it becomes delinquent. The delinquent penalty on the second installment is fixed at 50 cents for every lot, piece or parcel of real property and every separate extension of personal property.

Should taxpayers fail to receive their tax bills before October 31, they are requested to call at the tax collector's office for them.

Mrs. M. M. M'Enany Buys $12,000 Corner

Borthick Brothers, realty firm of 244 South Brand boulevard, reports the sale to Mrs. Mary M. McEnany of West Elk avenue of the southwest corner of Brand boulevard and Maple avenue for a consideration of $12,000. The property has a frontage of 50 feet on Brand and 90 feet on Maple. Mrs. McEnany intends to improve this with a business block.

Judge Bledsoe to Make Address at Federation Dinner

Arrangements are being made for the annual meeting of the Federated Brotherhoods of the Glendale churches to be held Tuesday night, October 17, in the Christian church.

A banquet will be served at 6:30 o'clock by the women of the church. This will be in the social hall, and at 7:30 o'clock election of officers for the coming year will take place.

Federal Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe will give an address. A committee comprised of T. A. Wright, H. A. Wilson and W. A. Horn, is arranging a special musical program. Other committees in charge of arrangements for this annual meeting include: J. H. Garnsey and Rev. W. E. Edmonds, on speakers; H. E. Fry, H. A. Wilson and H. A. Horn, nominating committee; W. B. Kirk and W. F. Tower, publicity; George Daugherty, tickets. This meeting is to be for men only and is open to all the men of Glendale.

ANNOUNCE SCOUT LEADER AT MEET

C. H. Kirkman Takes Work With Glendale Troop; Has Experience

C. H. Kirkman, well-known Glendale business man, 630 North Jackson street, is the new scoutmaster of Troop No. 3, Glendale Boy Scouts of America. The announcement was made last night at a big rally of the troop at Central avenue school.

For some time the problem of securing a new scoutmaster has been up to the troop committee. The announcement that one had been secured, and that it was a man who knew boys and scouting work was hailed by cheers from the boys.

In response, Mr. Kirkman told those present of his early experiences in boys' work in Colorado. In addition to having been in similar work, he is said to be well qualified for his new duties because of his love for the out-of-doors. Many week-ends find him in the mountains on camping trips, some of which will now be shared with the boys.

The selection of Mr. Kirkman was made through George B Karr, a member of the Chamber of Commerce troop committee. The new scoutmaster is a member of both the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary club of Glendale.

Scouts Robert Eastman and Clifford Walcott told the gathering of their experiences to the Older Boys' conference at Sacramento. A real treat was given the boys by Eugene B. Kille, who gave them an entertainment of moving pictures as a conclusion to the meeting.

Police Warn About Glaring Headlights

Glaring headlights must be subdued, according to the edict issued this morning by Col. J. D. Fraser, chief of the Glendale Police Department.

The California Automobile Trades Association has designated three official headlight testing stations for the city of Glendale. These are: The Glendale Day and Night Garage, 217 East Broadway; Parker and Black, 113 West Harvard street, and Psenner Brothers Auto Electric Company, 601 South Brand boulevard.

Chief Fraser stated that starting with October 15 two motorcycle officers would be on duty at night to arrest violators of the state headlight ordinance. It is his opinion that by that date all drivers who intend to will have availed themselves of the service of the three stations.

Two New Linotype Machines Ordered By Evening News

Two Mergenthaler linotype machines for The Glendale Evening News composing room were ordered yesterday by A. T. Cowan, publisher and proprietor, from E. G. Lindner, Los Angeles representative of the Mergenthaler Linotype Co. They will be installed within the next thirty days, it is promised.

The Glendale Evening News already has five linotypes, employing seven operators, yet that is not enough to meet the constantly growing demands for "metal."

Not only is the investment in additional mechanical equipment a big thing for Glendale's daily newspaper, but it means the employment of more skilled workmen.

"Always ahead" is a policy which promotes prosperity. It has placed The Glendale Evening News in first rank among Southern California daily newspapers.

PARENTS OF PUPILS HOLD MEETING AT ACACIA SCHOOL

Inspect New Building, Hear Brief Talks, Plan for the Coming Winter's Work

The opening meeting of the Acacia Street Mothers' Club, Parent-Teachers' association, was held last night in the new school building and combined the first meeting of the fall season with a general inspection of the building by the parents. The school is a very attractive building and now provides accommodations for the six grades and kindergarten.

Mrs. A. Wilson, president, was in charge of the business session, at which the new officers and committee chairmen were introduced as follows: Mrs. A. Wilson, president; Mrs. E. Strong, vice-president; Mrs. C. M. Sudlow, secretary; Miss Mae Cornwell, treasurer; Mrs. W. Bullis, auditor; Mrs. H. C. Levey, historian; Mrs. Ed Strong, finance; Mrs. C. M. Sudlow, publicity; Mrs. Wm. Alexander, program; Mrs. R. Lord, courtesy; Mrs. J. H. Searles, membership; Mrs. Peter L. Ferry, patriotic; Mrs. O. W. Esselman, parliamentarian; Mrs. Ed Evans, thrift; Mrs. F. Hartman, education and kindergarten.

Give Brief Talks

Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, was present and gave a short talk on the school situation, after which he discussed the question "What and Why Is the P.-T. A?" Mrs. Arthur Brown, member of the school board, expressed appreciation for the co-operation between the P.-T. A., the school board and the people of Glendale. Greetings from the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations was given by Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of that organization.

Mrs. H. C. Levey in reading the following original poem announced a delightful surprise for the past presidents of the Acacia Street P.-T. A.

Acacia P.-T. A.
Has had good presidents always,
These chief officers have numbered six,
So we found ourselves in quite a fix
When we happened to think we had honored two,
While four others the same hard work did do.
We then decided it would be no sin
To present these four past presidents each with a pin
In the order in which they came along.
Their names are Todd, Priaulx, Wattles and Strong,
Underneath this spirit of laughter and jest
Is the same loving appreciation we expressed to the rest.

Mrs. Levey presented Mrs. Richard Todd, Mrs. P. J. Priaulx, Mrs. W. C. Wattles and Mrs. Ed Strong with gold bar pins. The two past presidents having been previously honored, as explained in this original verse, were Mrs O. W. Esselman and Mrs. Wm. Alexander.

Become Acquainted

As this first meeting was in the nature of a get-acquainted between the new officers, teachers and parents, the new teachers and instructors at the Acacia Street school were introduced: Miss Mae Cornwell, president and teacher of the first grade; Miss Euliel Ballinger, second; Miss Mary Rich, third; Mrs. Luella Bullis, fourth; Mrs. Gladys Hopkins, fifth; Miss Daisy Curran, sixth; Miss Ledyard, kindergarten. Miss Cornwell gave a short talk regarding the new school. When organized eight years ago there were thirty-three pupils enrolled, and at the present time there are 285. In spite of the fact that there are three more grades at the school this year there had been an overflow of sixty-seven pupils who had to be transferred to other schools.

A general inspection of the new building followed the regular meeting. Punch and wafers were served. For the occasion the Green Hill Beverage company furnished 240 bottles of their beverages.

Mrs. H. A. M'Pherson Card Club Hostess

Mrs. H. A. McPherson of 607 North Central avenue was hostess Friday afternoon at the regular social affair of the Milford Street Card club. She was assisted in entertaining by her niece, Miss Marion Hindman of Columbus, O.

At the close of the five-hundred games the first prize was awarded Mrs. R. Vinton of Hollywood, while the consolation prize went to Mrs. John Robert White.

Those enjoying the afternoon at the McPherson home were Mesdames R. Vinton, John Robert White, J. H. Southard, W. N. Rathbun, C. H. Thompson, H. V. Brummel, Reed Heustis, L. C. Leppelman, H. G. Hosford and H. P. Strain.

Mrs. J. H. Southard of 341 West Doran street will be hostess to the club members in two weeks.

FRANCE NOT TO FIGHT

PARIS, Sept. 30.—"France," it was declared today upon the highest authority, "will not participate in a conflict between the British and Turks under present circumstances." FAIL TO FIND TRACE OF 'REV.' CHARLES NEWMAN

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30.—With new sensations developing every minute in the ramifications of "Rev." Charles Newman, whose real name is Harry Y. Cohen, alleged "master of the devil's playground" and spiritualistic medium, police and operatives of a private detective agency today expected to extend their search for the missing "pastor" to the Mexican border, following their failure to apprehend him for two days. Following his arrest Wednesday afternoon on complaint of a 16-year-old bride and when a "love list" of some 800 names of Los Angeles women were found in his possession. Newman or Cohen has been at liberty on $5000 bail. Efforts of officers to locate him since that time have proved futile.

POTTERY WORKERS ON FIRST STRIKE IN 28 YEARS

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Sept. 30.—Over 10,000 skilled pottery workers throughout the United States will strike tonight in the first serious dispute in the ceramic industry in twenty-eight years. Workers will walk out because of the refusal of the United States Manufacturers' Association, the manufacturers' organization, to grant the demand of the working potters for a seven per cent wage raise. East Liverpool and Trenton, N. J., are the largest manufacturing points affected. Many plants in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania as well as others in Indiana, Virginia, Michigan, Tennessee and California are included.

The Tropico Potteries, Glendale, will not be affected by this strike according to Superintendent E. M. Davids.

TODAY'S TAG DAY! EVERYBODY AIDS NEW CAR LINE

Large Number of Workers In Campaign; Jubilee Parade Tonight's Feature

Tags, indicating a financial interest in the proposed new car line on South Glendale avenue, are being purchased as badges of honor today by citizens of Glendale.

Dr. Jessie Russell of 208 South Brand boulevard, chairman of the Tag Day activities, at noon today expressed her satisfaction at the results being achieved by the campaign. She is confident, she says, that residents of Glendale will not fail to take advantage of this opportunity to display their civic pride.

Fifteen hundred $1 tags have been distributed among the workers and it is hoped that a large number of them will be sold. Early reports indicate that no one yet has refused to buy a tag.

Big Parade Tonight

A jubilee parade tonight under the auspices of the Glendale Kiwanis Club will wind up the celebration. W. C. Page of 360 East Broadway, who is chairman of this committee, promises the town a lively time. Harry Girard will be taken along on the local excursion in his special chair. Other vocalists, who will lend their talent to the occasion will be Mayor Spencer Robinson and Wilbur Herwig. A jazz orchestra will be led by William G. Bode.

Members of the city council have signified their intention of taking part in the parade and several of them probably will be called upon for speeches.

MAX GREEN PLANS $10,000 ADDITION

New Building to Be Erected Next to Salesrooms at 115 West Harvard

Confidence and optimism in the prosperity of Glendale was expressed yesterday afternoon by Max Green in his automobile salesroom at 115 West Harvard street in announcing the erection of a $10,000 addition to the present building.

Plans for the new building, which will be located at 117 and 119 West Harvard street, were prepared by the Roy L. Kent company, 130 South Brand boulevard. The firm of May and Hellman of 205 East Broadway has been awarded the contract and work is under way already. The work is scheduled for completion before November 15.

The new building, which will be of brick and one story high, will be 43 by 60 feet in size. It will be divided lengthwise into two stores each 20 by 60 feet in dimensions.

The Pacific Coast Tire company of Los Angeles has rented one of these stores for a branch. Mr. Green stated that the other store has not been leased yet.

An ornamental tile front will distinguish the new structure. The front of the present building will be made to harmonize with it.

Although the permit for this building only calls for the expenditure of $7000, Mr. Green expects to spend several thousand dollars more in fixtures which will bring the total up to about $10,000.

Glendale Men Win Place In Big Event

The big event of the last day of the second annual tournament of the California State Horseshoe Pitching at Long Beach is the 50-point walking game. Six men are tie in this event, and there are three games to play.

Those participating in this event are G. J. Mulligan, Glendale; Alonzo White, Long Beach; A. F. Gallow, Pomona, Mr. McKindley, and Mr. Sprague, Pasadena; Glen Porter, Glendale.

DUTY

The duty of a retail lumber yard does not consist only in selling lumber. To consider carefully the individual requirements of each customer, to recommend only those materials which satisfactorily fill those requirements.

To conscientiously advise our customers on the various building problems that may arise.

In addition to the above the use of our complete filing system is available, by means of which the prospective builder can get in touch with contractors, carpenters, builders, plasterers and cement workers. These are functions which this firm consider its elementary duties.

SHE'S MOST BEAUTIFUL GIRL IN ALL UNITED STATES

—Copyright Underwood & Underwood.

Hail to the new Queen of Queens, Miss Mary Catherine Campbell, of Columbus, Ohio, was selected at the Atlantic City pageant by the jury of eight prominent artists as "Miss America," or the National Queen of Beauty. Selected from a field of nearly half a thousand beauties—both professional and amateur—from all over the United States and its possessions. Above are the three winners of the competition for display of evening gowns: Left, Miss Detroit, Beth Madison, second prize; (center) Miss Indianapolis, Miss Thelma Blossom, first prize; (right) Miss Columbus, Miss Mary Catherine Campbell, third prize, but winner of national beauty contest.

MAN IS ARRESTED BY MISTAKE AND PUT IN JAIL

Claim Police Officers Made Blunder and Caught the Wrong Fellow

Dragged from his bed at midnight by police officers, and taken to jail on a charge of cutting corners, when he "hadn't owned an automobile for over a year and a half," sounds like a tale from the heart of Russia, yet this identical experience happened to J. F. Reed, 203 South Peyton avenue, Eagle Rock, it is claimed.

It was Thursday evening, and Mr. Reed and his family had retired for the night. After they had been in bed a few hours there was a pounding at the door, and the family were awakened by the gruff demands to "Open the door in the name of the law."

The door was opened and two Los Angeles police officers entered, and read a warrant to Mr. Reed which charged that he had violated a city traffic ordinance by cutting corners with his automobile.

Tried to Explain

Mr. Reed, it is said, attempted to explain that there surely must be some mistake, as he had not owned an automobile for over eighteen months. "Tell it to the judge" was the only remark his explanations brought forth.

"Put up $25 cash bond or come to jail," he is said to have been informed. As it so happened, Mr. Reed did not have that much currency in the house, and, nothwithstanding the tearful pleadings of Mrs. Reed, he was placed in custody, taken to jail in Los Angeles, and spent the balance of the night behind the bars.

Early next morning he got in touch with Harold Ide Cruzan, judge of the Eagle Rock traffic court, a practicing attorney in Los Angeles, who immediately drove to the city, explained the situation to Judge Chambers, and Mr. Reed was released immediately.

Seek Explanation

As near as can be ascertained by Mr. Reed and Judge Cruzan, someone possibly with the same name as Mr. Reed had been tagged by a Los Angeles officer for cutting corners, and in some unexplained manner gave Mr. Reed's former address on Avenue 54 in Eagle Rock. This party failed to show up in court and a warrant was issued for his arrest. The officers went to the Avenue 54 address and from there traced the innocent victim to his home on Peyton avenue.

WILL CELEBRATE ON ANNIVERSARY

Have Operated Cafe Year, Is Word; Plan to Make It Real Event Sunday

In celebration of the anniversary of the opening of the Eagle Rock cafe at 115 South Central avenue, that is just one year old Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller will celebrate on Sunday with a most elaborate dinner at the cafe.

"No, it is not to be a private affair, but we have been here just a year and we want to do something out of the ordinary on that day," declares Mrs. Miller.

A most elaborate menu is being prepared, beautiful decorations, and an orchestra to supply music will be just a few of the things that are planned for the day.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Miller have a host of friends in Eagle Rock, Mr. Miller, one of the younger business men of the city, is said by friends to back every movement that tends to boost the city.

LEAD IN PLANT

Nearly one-tenth of the lead produced in the United States each year is used in a single Chicago plant that manufactures electrical equipment.

Girls presumably have ears, judging by the fact that they hear what is said of them.

He Gives Up Hope Of Being Able to Pay His Big Debts

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—George Thomas Jones says he's given up hope of being able to pay his debts.

They only amount to $304,840,332,912,685.60.

He says he's investigated and found there's not that much money in the world so he had a petition in bankruptcy on file in federal court today.

In 1897 he borrowed $100 from Henry B. Stuart agreeing to pay ten per cent interest compounded monthly. As a result Stuart recently secured judgment for the huge sum. Jones has but $1,000 and that's exempt under the law.

PARTS ASSIGNED FOR PLAY TO BE GIVEN SOON

Start Rehearsals for 'The Man From Mexico' Next Tuesday Night

"The Man From Mexico" the farce comedy to be staged by the Community Players of Eagle Rock some time the latter part of October or first of November, is fast being moulded into shape, according to Judge Harold Ire Cruzan, who is re-writing the original farce to change it to a farce comedy.

A number of the most important roles have already been assigned to players: Mrs. R. J. Tepper, is to take the part of "Nettie Majors" and Joseph Morgan will take the part of "Mr. Majors," the man who "fixes things up." Miss Eileen Rennison will take the part of "Clementina Fitzhugh." Miss Dorothy Algy is to take the part of the funny Swedish servant girl, "Sallie Graice."

Winfield Vauss is to have the part of "Dauntar" and plays opposite "Sallie Graice." Judge Cruzan will have the part of "Benjamin Fitzhugh."

Rehearsals are to start next Tuesday night in the Central school house at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Squires, who has the chorus in charge reports the chorus as rapidly filling and applicants should make all haste to get in touch with her in time for rehearsals.

Poulin 'Not Guilty,' Verdict of Judge

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 30.—Harry Poulin, the campus haberdasher, today was adjudged not to be the father of Mrs. Augusta Tiernan's baby born last November in the decision handed down by Judge Chester Ducomb in court.

The decision came like a thunderbolt to the Tiernans and their friends, for it was clear-cut.

It comprised six typewritten pages of legal paper and Judge Ducomb made it distinct that he found Poulin "not guilty" of the accusation made against him by the wife of Professor John P. Tiernan of Notre Dame university, in her confessed story of scarlet love romance with the haberdasher.

Judge Ducomb stated, however, that he believed there had been relations between Mrs. Tiernan and Poulin.

The fact, however, that Professor Tiernan had lived with his wife throughout the entire affair created the reasonable doubt that made it legally compulsory to find for the defendant, the decision stated.

It was pointed out that although Mrs. Tiernan testified she had not lived in the relation of husband and wife with her husband during the period of her confessed clandestine love affair with Poulin, the couple had lived together and had remained together. This fact created the reasonable doubt as to whether Poulin was the father of the child.

AUTO SUGGESTION CURE FOR EVERY ILL, ASSERTED

Wealthy Americans, English Nobility Among Patients Who Seek Relief

By HERBERT M. DAVIDSON
For International News Service.

PARIS—Marvelous cures by auto suggestion, unaccompanied by any appeal to religious faith, have been made by Emile Coue, former druggist of Nancy, according to a correspondent of Le Matin. Coue is president of the Lorraine Society of Applied Psychology.

Wealthy ailing Americans and members of the British nobility are among patients who have come to Nancy, not in the ardent spirit with which pilgrims go to Lourdes, but coolly, even incredulously as one customarily consults a physician—and have gone away miraculously healed.

"But it isn't a miracle at all," Coue explained to Le Matin's reporter; "it's very simple psychology. Psycho-analysis cures mental troubles. Why shouldn't it be useful in the treatment of physical ailments?"

Uses Imagination

The means which he uses, Coue describes as "the auto-suggestive implanation of an idea in itself, by itself, or the use of the influence of the imagination over the moral and physical being."

Among his patients, Coue describes a British former M. P. who had asthma. For six or seven nights the patient could scarcely breathe, but at the end of three weeks, under auto-suggestion, he went to Chamonix and, the day he arrived, ascended to an altitude of 6000 feet without noticing the difference.

Another—this time a member of the house of lords—had suffered for several years with gastro-enteritis.

"After his cure I visited him in London," said Coue. "The old fellow was eating lobster salad so tough you could have sent it through the mail."

The wife of an admiral came to Coue with a case of melcholia. She wept all the time. The first day she was auto-suggested she merely sniffed. The second day she only sniffled. The third day she smiled. The fourth day she laughed. And the fifth day she cracked a joke, whereupon she was pronounced entirely cured. She was English.

Le Matin's correspondent witnessed a "treatment." Coue gathered his patients, numbering more than a hundred, of various nationalities, into a sort of lecture hall.

Was It Hypnosis?

He ordered three or four of them to fold their hands tightly together.

"Think!" he commanded. "Say to yourselves: 'I cannot open my hands.'"

After some effort, all of them admitted that they were powerless to unclasp their hands.

"Now think again!" Coue ordered. "Say this time: 'I can open my hands!'"

All opened their hands easily.

"This experiment shows that thought dominates the action of the muscles," explained Coue, "and also how thought may paralyze muscular action."

Then he told his patients to close their eyes and listen quietly. He began his "suggestion" with the words: "The words which I pronounce must penetrate into your spirit—must rest there always graven, and they will continue to do you good even without any further effort on your part."

Then to each one he repeated a formula which they were requested to repeat after him, denying the power of their disease over them. He concluded by instructing them all to say twenty times each morning and each evening: "Every day, from every point of view, I am getting better and better," and he advocated, for psychological effect, the use of a sort of rosary to count off the twenty times.

After the session, according to the correspondent, an asthmatic patient went up in the elevator without distress and two dumb girls talked.

More than 150 persons were waiting in the anteroom for the beginning of the second seance of the day.

FOR-GET-ME-NOT DAY TO BE HELD

November 4 Designated As Time for Drive to Aid Disabled Veterans

A campaign to raise funds for the relief of disabled veterans of the World war will be waged on November 4, which has been officially designated as "National For-Get-Me-Not Day."

Mayor Spencer Robinson has received the following communication from A. L. McCormick of San Francisco, state adjutant for the Disabled American Veterans of the World War:

"November 4, 1922, has been officially designated as "National For-Get-Me-Not Day" of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War. The national organization, with headquarters at Cincinnati, Ohio, has selected this day for all chapters throughout the United States to conduct an intensive drive to raise funds to assist disabled American veterans of the world war in dire need of financial assistance, while awaiting their compensation settlement.

"On that day the generous public of our great nation will have an opportunity to do their 'bit' for those who did their bit back in those dark days of nineteen hundred and eighteen; naturally disabled veterans come to their own organization, when in need of aid.

"The state department of California, Disabled American Veterans of the World War has designated the First National bank at Sacramento to act as treasurer for the collective chapters, and the individual chapters have in turn designated banks in their respective cities to serve in a similar capacity for the funds collected by their chapters.

Used Sealed Containers

"All funds are to be collected in sealed containers, and turned over to the bank, sealed. The bank on completion of the drive will open those containers, tabulate the proceeds and turn the contents over to the bonded treasurer of the local chapter. No individual or committee will handle the funds collected.

"Each worker will make his deposits to the bank direct, and the containers must be sealed when deposited with the bank. This will eliminate the possibility of anyone being accused of misappropriating the funds collected, for the banks will handle the money from the start to the finish.

"Honorable William D. Stephens, governor of California, issued a proclamation on For-Get-Me-Not Day, December 13 of last year and has promised to do likewise on For-Get-Me-Not Day, November 4 of this year.

"The state department of California, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, earnestly solicit your co-operation with our local committee by appointing a citizens' committee composed of some of your leading club, fraternal, and business people to aid is putting the drive 'over the top.'"

New Building for Eagle Rock, Plan

A first class brick store building with apartments above near the corner of Colorado boulevard and Satsuma avenue, Eagle Rock, is the promise of Mrs. Martha Bryant of Los Angeles who has just purchased a large lot at this location. Mrs. Bryant stated that building operations will commence immediately.

The property was formerly owned by W. R. Denman of Eagle Rock and this realty transaction that will mean another business block in the east end, was handled by Miss A. McDaniel of 606 East Colorado boulevard.

SEVEN DEAD AND 10 HURT IN FIRE

New York Apartment House Is Swept by Flames; Many Thrilling Rescues

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Seven persons are dead and ten injured as a result of a fire which swept through a five-story apartment building at 241 West 109th street, in the heart of the fashionable upper West Side, early today. Police believe a fire bug set the blaze.

The dead: Wilbur Fenn, 45; Wilbur Fenn, Jr., his son, 16; William Hummel, 16; Harry Hoff, 45; Irene Hoff, 21; Flora Hoff, 18; unidentified boy about 12.

Three firemen were injured in trying to rescue the sleeping tenants and seven tenants were burned or injured in leaping from windows. All were taken to hospitals.

According to firemen, the blaze started on the second floor and raged upwards. The tenants on the upper floors became panic-stricken when smoke filled their apartments and they found escape by means of the stairways cut off. Many of them leaped from windows. Some rushed to the roof.

Sensational Rescues

Firemen made sensational rescues. The heroic rescue work prevented the death list from being much larger. One fireman, Thomas Jenkins, was overcome as he was making his fifth trip from the building carrying an unconscious tenant.

One of the lads who was killed met death in jumping from the roof. Firemen yelled to him to wait as he would be rescued in a few minutes, but he was panic-stricken and jumped.

Police reported that shortly before the fire was discovered, a blaze was started in the hallway of an adjoining building. That blaze was extinguished by a tenant. He told the police he heard a noise in the hallway and upon opening the door, discovered the fire at the foot of the stairway. A few minutes after he had extinguished the blaze, he said, a stranger walked into the building and carefully examined the charred steps.

"Not horses enough?"

"Oh, yes, but the pupils are falling off every day."

TEST CASE WILL BE MADE, CLAIM

Question Motor Cop's Right to Arrest for Driving Fast Over Bridge

Eagle Rock is to have another test case. This time the superior court is to pass on the right of Eagle Rock motor cops to arrest motorists who drive across bridges in excess of 15 miles per hour.

Fred McLain, residing in Sou[illegible] Pasadena was arrested some days ago for going 28 miles over the bridge opposite the Bird Rock and was ordered to appear before Judge Cruzan.

McLain took the matter up with the auto club whose attorney is said to have just notified the Eagle Rock judge that they are going to have McLain take a jail sentence, and then swear out a writ of habeas corpus and carry the case to the superior court for a decision on the validity of the right of the state highway commission to set the speed limit on bridges.

Supreme Court Decision

According to Judge Cruzan, the supreme court holds that judicial or semi-judicial bodies are the only ones that hold right to exercise any descretionary power in setting any such speed limits, and the point of law that is to be raised is whether or not the state highway commission is a judicial or semi-judicial body. The Auto club who it is said will be the plaintiffs in the action, will hold to the contrary and the defendants the City of Eagle Rock, will hold that the state highway commission is wholly within their rights, it is declared.

Court Is Adjourned With Radio Message

NEW YORK—While Supreme Court Justice Arthur S. Tompkins of Rockland county, was en route to this port from a trip to Europe he decided to adjourn court. He simply sent a radio message.

NOT ISSUED

A woman, visiting an orphan asylum for the first time, was drawn to a little tot who looked more lonesome than the others.

"What a shame a nice little girl like you hasn't a mother," sympathized the kind-hearted caller.

"Well," came the philosophical answer, "it's no fault of mine. When I was born mothers didn't come with children."

HOLD SURPRISE BIRTHDAY EVENT

Carleton Walker Is Greeted by Friends Who Gather to Help Celebrate

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Walker of 523 North Central avenue was the setting last night of a pretty affair when they entertained a group of young people at a pleasant informal dance in honor of their son, Carleton Walker, who was celebrating his sixteenth birthday anniversary. Miss Lucile Beach, of 327 Riverdale Drive, whose fifteenth anniversary occurred the same day, shared the honors.

The affair was a surprise, the guests first assembling at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Nay.

Dancing the old Virginia Reel, was an enjoyable feature of the evening. Refreshments were served at the table, where a color scheme of rose, pink and white was carried out in floral decorations, and dainty place cards and other appointments.

A large, beautiful birthday cake occupied the center.

Those present were Miss Lucile Beach, Miss Alice Hill, Miss Vivian Nay, Miss Frederica Browne, Miss Beryl Goodale, Miss Elizabeth walker, Miss Evelyn Hunt, Miss Leona Hunt, Miss Marjorie Temple, Miss Carolyn Ayars; Robert Hatch, Davis Chandler, Frank Thompson, Dallas Kalbaugh, Alexander McPherson, Kenneth Hellyer, Dick Rhoades, Richardson D. Jones, Eugene Wernette, Carleton Walker; Miss Gladys Sharpe. Mrs. Walker was assisted by Mrs. Frank B. Nay.

W. B. Kirk Pleads for Wright Measure

Editor Evening News—By far the most important issue to be voted upon at the coming election in November, is that concerning the Wright Bill and known on the ballot as Proposition No. 2.

It seems incredible that it should be necessary to make any effort to carry a proposition as evidently just and right to all thinking people, yet the indifference and ignorance shown by many who would work for this measure, if they really knew what it means, may result in its defeat.

The question is not whether we shall have Prohibition—that has been finally settled by the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment—but whether we use the means we already have at hand to carry it out.

Undoubtedly many people have the idea that this enforcement will add to the cost of government and thus increase taxes and they are against anything which will add to the already heavy tax rate. These people should know that the Wright Bill contemplates only the using of the legal machinery, the courts and officers of the law, which we are now supporting, in the carrying out of its provisions. Instead of having only the few judges and officers of the federal courts now empowered to handle these cases, we shall have the hundreds and thousands of our state, county and city officials to do this work, and any added cost of prosecution will be more than offset by the fines which will be paid into our local treasuries.

We have in Glendale probably the highest average of morality and intelligence in the state, and when we know our duty, we do it with zeal and enthusiasm. It is up to us then to inform our neighbors of the importance of this measure, see that they are registered, and that they know where to find the measure on the ballot—namely No. 2.

The most important thing now is the matter of registration, because no mater how interested a person may become, it will be impossible to vote if he or she is not registered and it must be done this week or next.

Remember, Saturday, October 7, is the last day for registration! Get busy with your friends and neighbors in this matter. Yes, maybe there are members of your own family who are not yet registered.

Love Is His Asset and He Is Broke

OAKLAND, Sept. 30.—Rodney Kendrick, newspaper artist, whose love his wife values at $25,000 and who charges Mrs. Edith Spreckels Wakefield was willing to pay $100 a month if she would divorce him, is stone broke. Summoned before Judge Dudley Kinsell to show cause why he should not be imprisoned for failure to pay his wife $75 a month alimony, the artist told the judge he had but 20 cents to his name. Judge Kinsell gave him until October 27 to meet the payments.

Attorney Frank Carr, counsel for Mrs. Kendrick, was not inclined to be so lenient and threatened arrest for failure to provide if the money is not forthcoming by next Wednesday.

Judge Kinsell overruled a demurrer filed by Mrs. Wakefield to Mrs. Kendrick's $25,000 suit.

TO CONFER WITH TURKS

RIGA, Sept. 30. — Acting Foreign Minister Karachan of soviet Russia, was reported today to have left Moscow for Angora to enter into negotiations with the Turkish nationalists. Russia already has a treaty with the Turkish nationalists. The Russian war office is said to be considering mobilization plans.

STARTS CHECK ON INCOME RETURNS

Revenue Collector Goodcell Verifying 12,000 Personal Statements

According to information received by The Evening News from Rex B. Goodcell, collector of internal revenue, an intensive drive by the combined revenue field forces is now on in full swing and under instructions from Washington will be continued without interruption until February 1.

During this drive a verification will be made of approximately 12,000 personal income returns which for various reasons require explanation on the part of the taxpayer.

The time of the field deputies will be devoted entirely to the verification of so-called doubtful returns and to the checking of returns made by corporations of dividends paid to individuals and of returns filed by corporations and partnerships showing salaries of $1000 or more paid to individuals.

Check Being Made

When these returns are checked the list of persons who filed income returns will be scrutinized to see if the dividends and salaries paid by corporations to individuals have been listed by the latter for taxation. Transcripts will be made of all real estate transfers and checks made to verify returns filed as to profit or loss on such transactions.

While Collector Goodcell is acting under instructions from Washington which govern the drive now on, he has directed field deputies to make their investigations with a minimum of annoyance to the taxpayer.

Band Concert Proves Pleasing to Crowds

The popularity of the Glendale Elks' band increases with each appearance, as was proven by the large crowd which attended the second weekly, public concert given by that organization of musicians last night on Broadway between Orange street and Brand boulevard. R. E. Kenny is director of this band and C. M. Burke is manager.

The program given last night included the following numbers:

March, "New York Hippodrome" (Sousa).

Overture, "Zampa" (Herold).

Cornet solo, "Sunshine of Your Smile" (Lillian Ray), by L. E. Wilbur.

Fox trot: a. "Say It While Dancing" (Silver), and b, "I'm Just Wild About Harry" (Sissle & Blake).

March, "Sunapee" (Goldman).

Overture, "Lustspiel" (Keler-Bela).

Idyll, "The Mill in the Forest" (Eilenberg).

Selection, "O Belle Nuit" "Barcarolle" (Hoffman).

March, "Barnum & Bailey's Favorite" (King).

Finale, "Star Spangled Banner."

Deaths and Funerals

MRS. MARY E. GOOD

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary E. Good, who passed away Tuesday, September 26, 1922, at her residence, 325 West Wilson avenue, were held yesterday, Friday, September 29, 1922, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the Christian Missionary Alliance church on Chestnut street.

Mrs. Good was 65 years of age and was a native of Iowa. She was educated in its state institutions, specializing in music, singing and serving as organist for a lengthy term in her home church.

Mrs. Good is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Zetta Gibbons of Glendale, and a son, Dore Good, of Denver. While in good health her spare moments were spent in ministering to the poor and distressed. Ill-health brought her to California eleven years ago.

Rev. H. McCall Goodwin of 608 South Adams street had charge of the funeral services, at which, in compliance with her mother's wish, Mrs. Zetta Gibbons sang. Interment was at Grand View cemetery. L. G. Scovern Undertaking company was in charge.

An acute attack of appendicitis caused the death this morning, Saturday, September 30, 1922, of Charles L. Kensill of 361 Oak street, at the age of 18.

Charles came to California in June with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kensill and two brothers and a sister, William H., Jr., John and Sarah Kensill. Another sister, Mrs. Harried Foley, remained in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, where he was born August 15, 1904.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed by Pulliam, Kiefer & Eyerick.

CHARLES THOMAS NOWELL

American legion post, No. 127, has charge of the funeral services being held this afternoon, Saturday, September 30, 1922, at the chapel of Pulliam, Kiefer & Eyerick for Charles Thomas Nowell. Rev. Harley G. Preston and Rev. C. N. Calderwood are officiating. The body will be shipped to Fondu-lac, Wis., for interment.

POSTOFFICE EXAMINATIONS

Examinations for positions as clerks and carriers in the Glendale postoffice will be held next Saturday, October 7, at the Glendale Union high school, according to Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson.

Those desiring to take the examination are urged to get in touch with John Boettner, civil service secretary at the local postoffice.

YANKS IN BATTING SLUMP; PITCHERS ARE USED UP

Wild-Eyed Fans Just Awake to Fact There's Chance of Pennant Tieup

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Copyright, Cronk Syndicate, 1922.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The very disquieting fact that it is altogether and entirely possible that the New York Yanks will decline to win their remaining two games and the St. Louis Browns decline to lose theirs, bringing the teams to the wire in a dead heat, has entered the local intelligence as the thief enters the home. It has come without invitation, a lurking, insidious threat of what the dark and immediate future may hold.

Wild eyed plans for a private New York world series have ceased automatically. The Yanks continue to accept ticket applications from optimistic gentlemen from nearby points, but one eye is on the applications and the other is on their ball club which has scored one run and thirteen hits in losing its last three games.

In Batting Slump

The team is in a hitting slump and the possibility of facing Herb Pennock in Boston today, and Walter Johnson in Washington tomorrow is by no means reassuring to the club officials or the team itself. Everyone connected with the club is frankly worried.

Local baseball followers, on the contrary, are not particularly concerned. They are merely interested in the amazing business with the academic interest of one who pauses to watch a mountebank do his stuff. With one of the local entries already in, they are content, seemingly, to speculate as to whether the series will be private or semi-public.

Four adverse factors may work against fulfillment of the latter. One is a Yankee victory over the Red Sox today or over the senators tomorrow. Another is a defeat of the Browns by the White Sox of Chicago today or tomorrow. A third is rain in Boston today or Washington tomorrow. A fourth is rain in St. Louis today and tomorrow.

That Great Big "If"

If any one of these four contingencies occur, the Yanks will become 1922 champions of the American league. If none of them come to pass the race will end in a tie, necessitating a play-off series of five games, two in each of the interested cities and a fifth if necessary to be decided by a toss-up. That would postpone the opening of the world series at least a week and make a number of gentlemen of the press who have been picking the Yanks to beat the Giants look quite careworn. The thing is entirely possible, if not exactly probable.

The Yanks have used up Bush and Shawkey, their best pitchers, in trying to beat the Red Sox, and must string along with Hoyt, Mays and Jones in the remaining games. They have nothing to string along with, judging on recent performances. The Browns on the other hand have already beaten "Red" Faber, the White Sox ace, and with Pruett and Urban, the relentless Shocker, still at hand, can very easily be figured to rush through the last two games.

Browns Defeat Sox; Boston Beats Yanks

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30.—The Browns' dying hopes of copping the American league pennant were given a pulmotor injection yesterday afternoon by developments on the Boston and St. Louis baseball diamonds.

The Browns won from the White Sox on the local lot, 3 to 2, while Boston triumphed over the Yankees in a pitchers' duel, 1 to 0, leaving New York with a two-game lead in the pennant race.

St. Louis, however, must make a clean sweep of the series with the Sox and the Yankees lose its remaining two games with Boston to tie up the standing, which would necessitate a play-off series between the two contenders.

Here are yesterday's scores:

At St. Louis—

Chicago	2	5	0
St. Louis	3	8	1

Batteries—Leverett and Schalk; Van Gilder and Collins.

At Boston—

New York	0	5	0
Boston	1	6	1

Batteries—Shawkey and Schang; Quinn and Ruel.

Football on Pacific Coast Is Under Way

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30. — Football on the Pacific coast got under way today.

University of California opens the season at Berkeley, facing in the initial encounter of the 1922 season, the University of Santa Clara. Considerable interest attaches to the game as the followers of the Big Bears are anxious to get a line on the prospects Andy Smith has for turning out another "wonder eleven" this year.

At Eugene, Ore., Oregon will open the season against the Pacific university. At Corvallis, Ore., the Oregon Aggies will clash with the Astoria American Legion a team of U. S. S. Idaho.

Stanford, Washington State, Idaho and University of Southern California will not open their seasons until a week hence.

The Sport Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The worthy Mr. Huggins—or is it to be Lee Fohl, by any possible shot in the dark—will most certainly have something to do with the running of a baseball club on the field during the impending world series, if only as a managerial clearing house for decisions made in advance of a play. It will remain for John McGraw to sit in the dugout and like a chess master, run his team, play by play.

This was so during the 1921 series. Frank Snyder, who is no one's dumb bell, seldom flashed a signal to the pitcher without first turning around to get McGraw's say-so. It is said that McGraw pitched virtually every ball that was thrown by Douglas, Nehf and Barnes during the series, and knowing the Yank hitters like an ice man knows his scales, made his pitchers look better than they really were.

Again, with the batters. Let a man like Bancroft, who has been around the major leagues long enough to know his own mind, work the pitcher to a count of 2 and 0. He does nothing before craning an interrogative neck in the direction of the dugout. So it is also with Young, Frisch, Meusel and all of them.

It is a case of man absolutely dominating the thoughts and actions of nine. They are not supposed to think, merely to follow orders and play ball.

I am reminded of the story of Davy Robertson, when he was playing with the Giants some years ago. Davy, it is said, had stubbed a mental toe somewhere in the outfield on a play and on his way in to the bench, prepared himself for the wrost. "Mac, I thought," he began.

"You thought?" McGraw exploded. "Whoever told you to think? I'll do all the thinking of this baseball club."

That is a typical example of McGraw imperialism. Not unlike the late Caesar, he would say if pressed for an answer, "Let me have men around me who will not think."

It is the main reason that McGraw has had trouble with some of his men, for the baseball public doesn't know the real McGraw. Overlooking some of his rather obvious faults, his is really a splendid character.

"I couldn't get along with Buck Herzog. Buck had a fiery spirit and mind of his own. It is the reason for Shafer's retirement and Robertson's failure to report in 1918," said McGraw.

It would seem to follow that the present Giant assembly has resigned itself to a life of thoughtlessness. This is pretty much the case.

The WORLD OVER

Whether or not Battling Siki, the Senegalese boxer, who put the final quietus on Georges Carpentier, the French champion, will receive the big purses he has demanded for his services remains to be seen, but there is one thing certain. If Siki can place himself under the management of a clever and honest manager, he stands a chance of reaping a golden harvest.

Few persons yet are satisfied that the defeat of Carpentier constitutes a basis on which to proclaim the Senegalese a great fighter, or even a good one. Carpentier and his manager Deschamps considered the Indian an easy mark, and it is possible that the Frenchman was utterly unprepared for what proved to be the eventuality. Siki will have to make more of a reputation for himself, but it seems evident that promoters are willing to pay him handsomely while he is doing so.

It may barely be possible that Siki has not far to go. Meteoric careers have often dropped back to earth with a sudden and dull thud. The first good man that Siki meets may "show him up." Some good boxer who is prepared for him as a result of the warning given by the Carpentier incident may be able to more than hold his own.

The advent of a Senegalese as a champion possibility is at least interesting, and particularly so for the reason that the East Indian during the late war showed himself to be a shrewd, calculating, cool and ferocious fighter in the trenches and on no man's land. Hundreds of German soldiers never knew that their throats had been suddenly cut from ear to ear, and there were no men on the western front who were more feared by the Germans than those same Indians in the British army.

Naturally it is a different thing to work in the ring with gloves and with a dagger in the field, but the element of courage, and the willingness to endure hardships are two elements that are indigenous to both styles of fighting. Another thing, there is not likely to be active prejudice that exists against the African type of negro in the case of the East Indian. Certainly there would be no objections raised if an American Indian fought an American, say a man of the type of Jim Thorpe, and practically the same conditions obtain in the case of the Senegalese.

Unless something happens to lay low the present sensation of the ring, either through poor management or a real inability to fight, there seems to be little reason to suppose that Siki will not be showing his wares in this country. In no place in the world is there more money to be made by a pugilist than in the United States, and it is an absolute certainty that, for this one reason alone, the Senegalese will gravitate this way. One thing, however, that already is jarring on the fight fans is the evident spirit of commercialism that has obtruded as evidenced by the financial demands being made by the Indian before anyone knows whether he really is any good or not.

SPORTS CHATTER

Every world series since the contests have been played under the existing rules, the first in 1905, has produced one man who showed to advantage. These players, characterized as "Heroes of the world series" are as follows:

1905—Christy Mathewson, New York Nationals, pitcher.

1906—George Rohe, Chicago Americans, third baseman.

1907—Harry Steinfeldt, Chicago Nationals, third baseman.

1908—Frank Chance, Chicago Nationals, first baseman.

1909—Adams, Pittsburgh Nationals, pitcher.

1910—Jack Coombs, Philadelphia Americans, pitcher.

1911—Frank Baker, Philadelphia Americans, third baseman.

1912—Buck Herzog, New York Nationals, third baseman.

1913—Eddie Collins, Philadelphia Americans, second baseman.

1914—Hank Gowdy, Boston Nationals, catcher.

1916—Harry Hooper, Boston Americans, right fielder.

1917—Faber, Chicago Americans, pitcher.

1919—Eddie Roush, Cincinnati Nationals, centerfielder.

1920—W. Wambsganss, Cleveland Americans, second baseman.

1921—Waite Hoyt, New York Americans, pitcher.

Pitchers Who Have Won Three Games In a Series

From 1905 to date only five pitchers have accomplished the almost impossible task of winning three games in a series, and these men pulled this trick when seven games composed the series.

The records of these stars follows:

1905—Mathewson, New York, 3 games, won 3, lost 0, percentage 1000.

1909—Adams, Pittsburgh, 3 games, won 3, lost 0, percentage 1000.

1910—Coombs, Philadelphia, 3 games, won 3, lost 0, percentage 1000.

1917—Faber, Chicago, 4 games, won 3, lost 1, percentage 750.

1920—Covelskie, Cleveland, 3 games, won 3, lost 0, percentage 1000.

Back in 1903, prior to the present modern world's series, Dineen of Boston won three and lost one, while Phillipee of Pittsburgh won three and lost two.

World Series Team Batting

The highest batting average by a team in the world series was made in 1910 by Connie Mack's Chicago Cubs with .317. The lowest team batting of a winner was in 1918 by the Boston Americans with .186, and in that series the Chicago Nationals out-hit the winners with .210. The highest team batting of a losing team was .270 by New York Nationals, the team out-hitting the Boston Americans, who registered .220. The lowest team batting is .175, also credited to the New York Nationals in 1911.

Give the public a square deal, when industrial controversies arise.

League Heads Ready for Possible Tieup

CHICAGO, Sept. 30. — With the St. Louis Browns winning consistently, while the Yanks are losing, moguls of the American league here today were preparing for a possible tie for the championship in the American league, which would necessitate the postponing of the world series, scheduled to start at New York on next Wednesday.

Such a tie will be played off, according to President Ban Johnson of the American league, in a five-game series. The first two games, Johnson announced, would be played at St. Louis next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The two clubs would then jump to New York for the third and fourth games on Friday and Saturday. In the event each club takes two games, the place for playing the fifth game would be determined by a toss-up.

RECORD CROWD AT BIG SERIES IS SURE, CLAIM

Complaints Being Made on Price of Tickets; List of Eligible Players

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Officials of the Giants and the Yanks maintain that there is larger demand for world's series seats this year than there was in 1921, and that the general attendance ought to pass last fall's figures.

On the surface, there is nothing to indicate that another world series is coming to the Polo Grounds, but New York is too big to show any ripples of excitement about anything. The big town also lacks the partisan interest that would be manifested in any of the big western towns. New York knows that New York is bound to win the world's championship, and the average fans care not whether it is the Giants or the Yanks.

Complain About Price

Some complaints have been made about the price of tickets and the method of selling which makes it necessary to buy at least three tickets to get a reserved seat. However, the management, in deciding not to reserve the upper stands, has overcome some of the objections.

All of the old ballplayers who have found jobs around the Polo Grounds are one in backing the Giants to win the series simply because "Mac" will be on the bench directing the play. Many of the minor club owners and managers, arriving for the series, express the same belief.

Nearly all of the fans, especially the younger ones, however, figure the Yanks to be sure winners on the strength of the pitching staff and the belief that Babe Ruth will be in better condition to do something this year.

Those Eligible

Twenty-five members of the Giants, exclusive of McGraw and the coaches, are eligible for the series, and twenty-two Yanks are eligible. The Giants who may play in the series are:

Nehf, Scott, McQuillan, J. Barnes, V. Barnes, Jonnard, Ryan, Hill and Blume, pitchers; Snyder, Earl, Smith and Gaston, catchers; Kelly, Frisch, Bancroft, Groh, Rawlings, Maguire and McPhee, infielders; Meusel, Stengel, Young, Cunningham, Robertson and King, outfielders.

The Yankees eligible are:

Bush, Mays, Hoyt, Jones, Shawkey, O'Doul and Murray, pitchers; Schang, Hoffman and Devormer, catchers; Pipp, Ward, Scott, Dugan, Baker and McNally, infielders; Ruth, Meusel, Witt, Elmer Smith, Skinner and McMilan, outfielders.

TROJAN SQUADS TO MEET TODAY IN PRACTICE GAME

Students and Former Stars In Football Bout; How They Size Up

Southern California gridiron fans will be given their first opportunity to witness college football this afternoon at Bovard field when Coach Elmer "Gloomy Gus" Henderson's powerful U. S. C. eleven will tackle a squad of former Trojan stars in a practice contest. Although the alumni players will be handicapped through not having had ample opportunities to get into the best condition the game should nevertheless be a battle, as the athletes whose names will appear in the lineup were formerly among the individual stars of their teams. Captained by Jimmy Smith, one of last year's varsity ends and tackles, the team will contain the following familiar faces: Johnny Leadingham, Charley Dean, Leo Livernash, Rabbit Mallette, Paul Beale, Bill Isenhour, Andy Toolen, and numerous others.

It is expected that the personnel of the varsity squad will be changed so many times during the game that not even Coach Henderson himself will know who's in there at all times. The Cardinal and Gold institution has more candidates out for football this year than at any time in the history of the school, and Henderson will not fail to give any one of them sufficient chance to show his worth in the practice games.

Heap Big Chief

To date, the "find" of the season is none other than "Chief" Newman, former star Sherman Indian school athlete. Newman, who strips at 185 pounds, is equally at home at any position in the line. He will probably appear at guard opposite Captain Leo Calland for the 1922 Trojans. Lowell Lindley, one of Henderson's first string linesmen of last season, will fill in the gap at center, while the two tackle berths will be filled by a couple of "Swedes" who have no peers on the Pacific coast—namely, Johnny Boyle and "Swede" Anderson.

The end positions, which were U. S. C.'s most woeful weakness last year, are doped to be an improvement of almost 100 per cent. Emmons, Milton, Pythian and Boyce are the huskies who are slated to fight it out for the two regular flank berths.

Henderson's real trouble begins when it comes to attempting to select a quartet of backfield men who will prove to the best advantage in advancing the ball.

Plenty of Material

At present there are no less than three full quartets available, none of whom should find any trouble getting on most university or college teams. Of the entire group of backfield candidates the writer is of the opinion that Gordon Campbell at quarter, Phil Tiernan, full, and "Hobo" Kincaid and "Rip" Baker, halves, would make the best showing, although the dope "on paper" is never a criterion. Other backfield material which may be termed as being more than "promising" is: Dolley, Anderson, Wayahn, Riddle, Amor and Harold Galloway, Leahy and Pythian.

The principal question among southern California followers from now on will be, "Who will Henderson start against Andy Smith's California Bears?"

Say Hogs Ate Tire on Airplane Wheel

GREENVILLE, O.—While Ed Jacks and a companion from Dayton were seeing the sights at the county fair here recently, leaving the airplane in which they had flown from their home in a field south of the fair grounds, hogs ate one of the rubber tires of the landing wheels. A trip to Dayton for a new tire was necessary.

CALIFORNIA GREAT LURE TO TOURIST

Just 22,923 Brought Their Cars to This State In 1921, Is Announced

By W. H. MARSH
Cashier California Motor Vehicle Department.

That California, with its marvelous chain of state and county highways, extending from the far northerly reaches of Siskiyou, winding down its gorgeous mountain sides, through picturesque canyons, on into the fertile valleys of the interior, and still onward through an ever-shifting, ever-changing panorama of nature's grandest till southern San Diego is reached, has come to be recognized as a motorist's paradise, is attested by the fact that in the year 1921 a grand total of 22,923 non-residents brought their cars into California from other states.

Scattering few there may have been who came in from other states and did not meet the requirements of the California state motor vehicle act by registering. The state vehicle act requires that every non-resident, within twenty-four hours from the time of entrance into the state, shall register his car at one of the offices of the division. Such registration may be made at any of the offices of the division, which are located at Sacramento, San Francisco, Oakland, Fresno, Los Angeles and San Diego. No fee is charged for this registration and, as this operation protects the tourist in case of the theft of his car, it is presumed that the above number of registrations covers practically all cars brought into this state from other states and countries during the year 1921.

Washington Cars Lead

Naturally the largest registration of entrants into the state comes from adjoining coast states. Washington led in 1921 with a total of 3,003 registrations, while Oregon was next with 2,643, and Arizona was third in the list with 2,138. Colorado was fourth with 1,653, and Illinois fifth with 1,116. Texas beat out the adjoining state of Nevada. The Lone Star state registered 1,182 machines against 989 from the sagebrush country, they running sixth and seventh respectively.

Michigan sent 778 Wolverines to augment the list of those to be delighted by California's air and sunshine and scenic beauty. Iowa was only one behind, she contributing 777 Hawkeyes to the ever-increasing Iowa colony. Kansas, the land of sunflowers and the home of "Henry and Me," was close behind with 753 applicants

L. A. Pedestrians May Be Tagged Like Automobile

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30. Los Angeles pedestrians may soon face the peril of being tagged.

Regulations of pedestrian as well as vehicular traffic by signals and traffic officers was recommended by Chief of Police Louis D. Oaks to the city council today.

Oaks urged the adoption of a measure amending the city's traffic ordinance to control pedestrian traffic as well as regulation of automobiles and street cars.

VARIED WONDERS ARE DISCOVERED

Visit Beautiful Estate of R. J. Busch and Witness Nature at Its Best

It is not necessary for Glendale motorists to travel far in order to find picturesque spots. This was the report of a Nash touring party that recently went in search of some place of beauty that they had never visited before.

The place where they stopped, and where the pictures shown on this page were taken, was on the private estate of R. J. Busch, situated in Millard's Canyon, about four miles from Pasadena. The estate, which in reality is a wonderful private park, is known as Boulder Crest.

At Boulder Crest one finds the wonders of nature combined with the handiwork of man.

The residence is a large Swiss chalet which matches perfectly its surroundings.

Many folks from Glendale have driven or made the trip on foot to Millard's Canyon, and have often admired the estate. However, the Nash party so thoroughly enjoyed their visit that they went one step further than has been done before, and brought back pictures of what they saw on their trip.

Much credit is being given Mr. Busch for his work in developing this beautiful estate, the making of which was prompted by his great love for nature. Now that the work is completed, other nature lovers make the journey to his estate and marvel at what they find.

License Collections

During the twelve months ending July 31, 1922, the State Motor Vehicle department of California collected in license fees, etc., a grand total of $8,185,674.43.

This is according to the official report of Charles J. Chenu, director of the department, to the governor. The report shows the receipts for 1921 were $6,768,249.64. The expenditure for the period just ended totalled $723,941.21, as against $696,306.21 in 1921.

Truck Efficient

Small Chinese firms have found it cheaper and more efficient to hire a truck than to employ the necessary number of coolies, says Consul General Edwin S. Cunningham, Shanghai, in a report to the department of commerce. A Shanghai newspaper has estimated that the expense of operating one truck for a day would be about $31. To do the same amount of work sixty coolies would be required at a cost of from $3 to $48 for labor alone, exclusive of all other expenses.

Luxury for Japan

Passenger cars are still considered a luxury in Japan and even motor trucks are considered as an unnecessary asset to a business. This can plainly be seen from the motor vehicle taxation in Tokio, where passenger cars of over 20 horsepower are taxed over $590 a year.

Europe No Field

Arthur E. Baker, vice president of the Maxwell Motor corporation, has returned from his summer trip abroad. In covering Europe, Mr. Baker traveled 2,000 miles by motor car in England, and with representatives of the Maxwell company made a general survey of conditions. Until recovery is more complete, Mr. Baker believes, England is not for the moment and cannot be a large market for American cars. In France conditions are prohbitive, and the same is largely true of other European countries.

Drivers Are Careful

Ninety-seven per cent of automobile drivers are careful, according to inspectors of the Pennsylvania railroad who checked 30,278 cars at grade crossings in five states. The educational campaign of the automobile industry, the Cross Crossings Cautiously drive of the railroads, and the efforts of many other organizations are being pushed to eliminate the 3 per cent of careless drivers.

Big Service Building

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., vice president of General Motors company, in charge of operations, announces that arrangements have been completed with Argonaut Service corporation for the erection of a thoroughly modern and complete service building in the heart of the New York business district.

Traffic In Egypt

Motor transportation of all kinds in Egypt, particularly with regard to taxicabs and commercial vehicles, received a considerable impetus during 1921. There are over 1600 passenger cars, of which 234 are taxis and 120 trucks in Alexandria, while in Cairo there are about 2200 passenger cars, of which 308 are taxis and 110 motor trucks. Motorcycles in these two cities number about 350 and 900, respectively.

Special Motorcycle

Dr. Paul Wilberforce Harrison, a medical missionary in Bahrein, Arabia, is having a special motorcycle made in this country with broad tires and high power, so that he can penertate the desert rapidly. He expects to make the distance from Bahrein to Riadh, which is 250 miles, within twenty-four hours, instead of taking ten to fourteen days on camel back for the trip.

Build Light Cars

Because of the taxes and high cost of gasoline, France is building smaller and lighter automobiles than those generally used in the United States. Official public contests are held in Paris and the winner of the competition was recently able to get, through the development of a better carburetor, sixty miles to the gallon of gasoline.

MOTOR SALES FOR AUGUST INCREASE

Figures Show Demand for Cars Grows; Southland Is Again Leader

OAKLAND, Sept. 30.—California, during August, with a sales record of 13,893 passenger cars, according to figures which will appear in the September issue of Motor Registration News, published in Oakland, came within 287 cars of equaling its record month's automobile business, transacted in June of this year, which reached the huge total of 14,180.

The August volume exceeded that of July by 882 cars, a sum great enough to lead Motor News publishers to believe that the motor car industry is again on an upward trend and that there is a possibility of September business surpassing even the high June mark.

Southland Gains

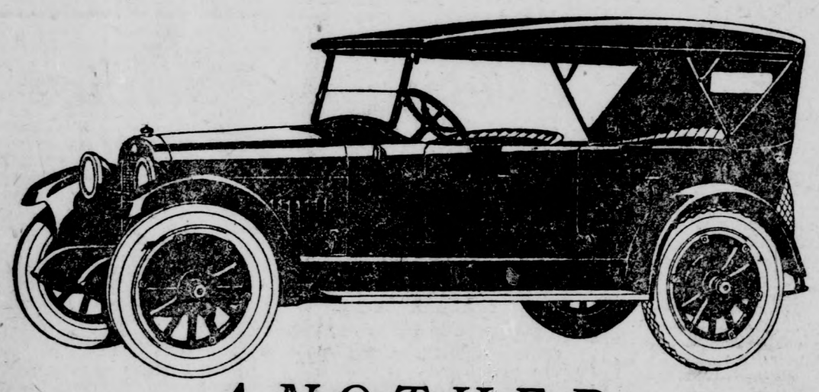

The aggregate sales for the month of August were greater by 4398 cars than a comparison for August of 1921. Reduced in percentages the August gain over the same month of last year is equivalent to 46 per cent. Southern California retains its lead over the northern section of the state, the figures reading 7515 for the south, compared to 6378 for the north.

Southern California gained 2131 cars' sales over August, 1921, or an increase of 40 per cent. Northern California disposed of 2267 more automobiles than it did in 1921. Its gain amounted to 55 per cent. Equally interesting in motor registration news statistics is the fact that the leading five counties of the state, in the order named, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Alameda, Fresno and San Diego, recorded the largest single month's business they have ever had in automobile annals, beating their former high figures of June, this year.

Fresno county showed the largest percentage gain for August, jumping to 667 sales in contrast to 233 in August, 1921. The raisin center advanced 186 per cent. San Diego county is credited with a 71 per cent increase, there being 270 sales in August, 1921, to 464 sales in August, 1922. Alameda county booked a 54 per cent gain, going from 609 to 938 sales San Francisco county boosted its business just a shade more than 50 per cent, the figures in this instance being 850 sales in August, 1921, and 1279 during last month.

In total volume Los Angeles county leads all other counties by a wide margin, having a mark of 5457—a sum more than twice as great as the two next counties combined. Los Angeles gained 42 per cent over its 3906 total of August, 1921.

All of the leading southern counties, as well as most of the larger northern counties, have registered substantial increases over the comparative month a year ago.

CAR TAKES DROP 75-FOOT RAVINE

Runs After Accident; Hard to Put Hupmobile Out of Business, Word

Various newspapers have recently carried a story on the unusual experiences of a Hupmobile roadster in La Crosse, Wis.

In commenting on the story, Lanier Bartlett, of Bartlett & French, local Hupmobile agency, 107 East Colorado street, said, "It's hard to put a Hupmobile out of business."

The story of the accident follows:

"The Hupmobile had been parked on a hill above a bridge. It was bumped just enough by a machine ahead of it to send it backward down the grade. It rolled to the bottom of the incline, crashed through a wooden rail and dropped 75 feet into a ravine.

"Witnesses stated that the car landed on all four wheels when it hit the ground, that it bounced into the air like a rubber ball and started off across the marshy ground, bouncing and gaining momentum as it went along. They said it appeared to be going about forty-five miles an hour when it hit the tree.

"The top was completely demolished when hit by the low-hanging branches, and the running gear and steering gear and running board bent, but otherwise no damage was done. The fenders were not even dented, and the engine was in perfect running condition. The car was hoisted out of the ravine and driven back to La Crosse under its own power. There was no one in the car when it started on its wild rampage."

Special Sale Is Being Held on Studebakers Put In First-Class Shape

A three-day sale of certified Studebakers is announced by the Packer Auto company, San Fernando Valley distributors for Studebaker motor cars. The Glendale branch is located at Colorado and Brand.

The sale will start today and extend through Monday and Tuesday, according to Don H. Packer. Included in the sale are light six touring, and special six touring, roadsters and sedans.

Included in the sale will be late model Studebakers which have been reconditioned and put into first-class snape, it is announced. Each car being put on sale is covered by thirty days' free service and a ninety-day guarantee on parts. Most of the cars are said to have been turned in on new Studebakers.

Each car has been thoroughly overhauled and put in first-class shape inside and out, according to Mr. Packer.

The Packer Auto company will remain open evenings during the sale, it is announced.

MAKE PRICE CUT ON POPULAR CAR

Willys-Knight Is Selling at New Low Price; Drop In Overland Car Also

A drastic cut in the prices of Willys-Knight and Overland automobiles effective September 18th, was announced by John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland company on Saturday, September 16th.

The reduction in the selling price of the Willys-Knight brings that car's price to the lowest level at which any car equipped with a Knight motor ever was sold, according to Geo. T. Smith, Glendale dealer of Willys-Knight and Overland cars.

Under the new list prices the Willys-Knight 5-passenger touring car, which, during the spring of this year sold at $1,525 and more recently at $1,375, is now to be had at $1,235 at the factory.

The Willys-Knight 5-passenger sedan is reduced in price $145 from its former price of $2,095, making its present cost, under the new list prices, $1,950. The Willys-Knight roadster, formerly $1,350, is cut to $1,235 and the Willys-Knight coupe from $1,875 to $1,795.

The Overland car is reduced to $525 for the touring model and the roadster to the same amount from their former price of $550. The coupe dropped from $850 to $795 and the sedan from $895 to $875.

CALIFORNIA GREAT LURE TO TOURIST

for non-resident emblems. Ohio sent 727 boosters for further presidential honors for the Buckeye state; California "showed" 680 Missourians, while Utah, New York and Oklahoma trailed with 628, 533 and 531, respectively.

Nebraska, land of the waving corn, and erstwhile home of the Peerless one, was the only other state to send more than a half-thousand, to be exact 509 having registered from that state.

Foreign Visitors Many

Not only did California entertain tourists from other states of the Union during 1921, but she had as her guests numerous foreign residents, who brought their cars with them, and were thus better able to enjoy the fascinating trips offered the motorist in this state of unsurpassed natural wonders. Canada led with 145, Mexico coming next with 29; Baja California 8, Panama 6. From across the Pacific came two from New Zealand, and Shanghai, China, sent one. European countries were represented by one registration each from England and Sweden.

Our insular possessions of Hawaii and the Philippines sent 94 tourists and 6, respectively, while three were registered from Alaska. The District of Columbia favored us with 12 visitors from the nation's capital.

Every State Represented

The other states of the Union, who sent less than 500 motorists into the state of California during the last year, and the number of each, follow:

Indiana	389
Montana	375
Pennsylvania	316
Wisconsin	290
New Mexico	289
South Dakota	240
Wyoming	218
Massachusetts	208
North Dakota	148
New Jersey	146
Florida	87
Connecticut	72
Arkansas	47
Maryland	46
Kentucky	45
Louisiana	43
Virginia	40
Rhode Island	32
Maine	31
Tennessee	21
New Hampshire	18
Alabama	12
North Carolina	12
Vermont	12
West Virginia	12
Mississippi	11
Delaware	8
Georgia	6
South Carolina	2

No state in the Union, it will be observed, failed to register, South Carolina having sent the minimum of two machines.

Thus far in 1922 approximately 7,000 non-resident registrations have been made by the division of motor vehicles. The registrations are coming in heavily now, and it is anticipated the end of the year will find an even larger number of registrations than was reached by the previous high mark of 1921.

Nearly every city in the United States is studying methods for the protection of motorists and pedestrians at dangerous traffic spots.

Chicago Leads Cities

Seven cities in the United States have equipment in their local postal service of over 100 motor trucks. Chicago leads with 421. The others are: New York, 318; Brooklyn (in greater New York, but having a separate postoffice), 125; Boston, 193; Philadelphia, 193; Washington, 111; St. Louis, 108.

Copper for Autos

Approximately 100 million pounds of copper will be utilized this year in the manufacture of automobiles in this country, according to a survey just completed by the Copper and Brass Research association. This is an increase of 30,000,000 pounds over 1921, and about 750,000 pounds more than 1920, in which latter year the automobile industry consumed 7.63 per cent of the total copper production.

Leak-Proof Can

A valve and spring plunger inside an oil can will keep it from leaking oil. This is a new kind of receptacle that is especially handy for motorists. No matter how it happens to be in the tool box no oil will get out of it and it eliminates grease in the chest.

"BIGGER AND BETTER"

HAS SUGGESTION TO BUICK OWNER

Real Service Aim of Tanner and Hall, Local Dealer, Says Ray L. Galvin

In an effort to be of real service to Buick car owners of Glendale, suggestion for the care and adjustment of Buick cars is given this week by Ray L. Gavin of Tanner Hall, Glendale Buick dealers, 237 South Brand boulevard.

The suggestion covers adjustment of push rods on Buick cars. It follows:

"Proper adjustment of the push rods is an important factor in the efficient operation of any gasoline motor. The push rods control the opening and closing of the valves, and if the adjustment of the push rods is so tight that the valves are not allowed to close completely, it is certain that the motor's performance will be impaired.

"If the valves are lashed too closely, as occurs when the push rod adjustment is not correct, the motor will lack speed and power.

"The right amount of valve clearance for Buick motors is given in the several reference books covering the various models. The correct amount of clearance has been determined by Buick engineers, and the instructions for valve lashing as applied to the various models should be observed.

Make Wrong Adjustment

"Many owners, in adjusting the push rods, fail to leave a sufficient amount of clearance to allow the valves to close and then complain if the motor does not operate smoothly. When valves are lashed so tightly that they do not completely close, a white-hot flame is driven under the partially open valve at the time of explosion with the result that the valve seat is badly burned. If this condition continues for some time the burning progresses to a point where the valves cannot close tightly even though the proper clearance be restored. It then becomes necessary to regrind the valves to restore the original smooth contact between the valve and its seat.

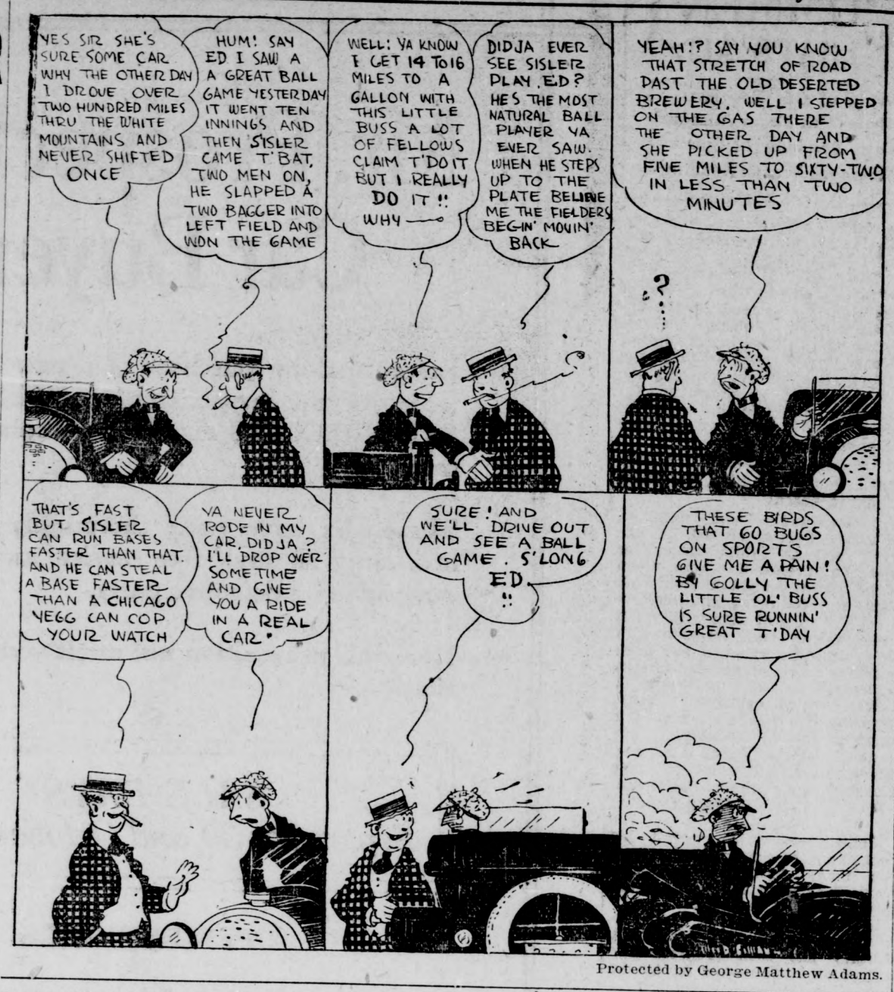

"Lashing of the motor, or adjusting the push rods, is a simple operation when one knows how it should be done, and if they are properly adjusted and the check nuts securely set, they will not require readjusting often in order to insure a quiet-running, efficiently operating motor. Before attempting to adjust the push rods, the reference book should be referred to and instructions followed, or, better yet, have the adjustment made at a Buick Authorized Service Station by a competent mechanic."

Many Havana Taxis

Havana is called the "city of taxicabs," as is shown by the fact that there are 5686 taxicabs and 3775 private passenger automobiles there.

SAY CLOSED CAR DEMAND GROWING

Fisher Body Company Builds Plants, As Chevrolet Demand Grows

Impressive evidence of the remarkable shifting of public demand for closed cars is shown by the recent announcement of the Fisher Body company that they have arranged to build or take over six large plants near Chevrolet assembly plants for the sole purpose of supplying closed cars to Chevrolet Motor company.

Addition of these new plants will give the Fisher Body company the largest total manufacturing floor space in the world—the aggregate being over 20 million square feet, nearly three times the area of the United States Steel corporation.

According to H. W. Smith, soles manager for C. L. Smith, local Chevrolet dealer, Chevrolet is the lowest priced car on the market carrying a Fisher body, hence it has attracted buyers from the lower and higher price classes because of the high quality of the body and the engineering improvements in the chassis. Chevrolet is now the largest producer of closed cars of this quality.

Oxcarts Doomed

All but one participant in a recent farmers' festival at Kalmar, Sweden, attended the event in motor cars. "In that particular section of Sweden," says a consular report to the United States department of commerce, "ox carts not long ago were the only means of communication."

Two thousand two hundred and thirty passenger cars and 798 motor trucks were brought to Sweden from foreign countries during the first six months of 1922.

DODGE BROTHERS ADD BODY PLANT

Construction Project of $1,500,000 Necessary As Car Demand Grows

Following recent completion of a vast construction program costing $8,000,000, Dodge Brothers, Detroit, have broken ground for another huge 8-story building requiring an additional investment of $1,500,000, according to word received by R. E. Corrigan, 145 South Brand boulevard, local Dodge Brothers dealer.

In this new unit, 440,000 feet of floor space will be provided. It will be devoted largely to closed body work.

The new principle of all-steel closed body construction developed by Dodge Brothers has generated a rapidly-growing demand for this type of body. The new plant will provide much needed space for assembly, enameling and storage of the all-steel closed bodies. Many large presses and enormous electrically heated enameling ovens will be installed, and warehousing space will be provided.

The announcement of proposed increase of manufacturing facilities comes as a welcome one to Dodge Brothers dealers throughout the country, as the demand for cars has been far in excess of present production.

The new construction project, on completion, will increase Dodge Brothers floor space to a total of 130 acres, and will give employment to hundreds of additional workmen.

Studebaker LIGHT-SIX CLOSED CARS

COUPE-ROADSTER $1225

SEDAN $1550

Present prices are the lowest at which Studebaker Light-Six closed cars have ever been sold.

Yet the intrinsic values are emphatically the greatest Studebaker ever offered. This means they are the best values that the industry affords, because Studebaker cars have always been above par in the amount of value per dollar invested.

Capacity production and the savings resulting from Studebaker methods of complete manufacture make these low prices possible.

Light-Six closed cars are sturdily built of finest materials and best workmanship. The bodies are the product of Studebaker skill and craftsmanship, and the prices of $1550 for the Sedan and $1225 for the Coupe-Roadster are no index to their inherent value.

When you buy a car you want to look at several makes. Include Studebaker in your list and after you have ridden in the Light-Six Sedan or Coupe-Roadster it will not be difficult to make up your mind.

The foundations of Studebaker success are quality, durability, comfort and integrity—principles that have been upheld steadfastly by Studebaker for seventy years. You can depend upon Studebaker automobiles because of the name they bear.

EQUIPMENT

The Studebaker Light-Six Sedan has four doors that swing wide open; dome light; mohair velvet plush upholstery; inside locks on three doors and outside lock on right-hand front door; silk roller curtains.

The Coupe-Roadster seats 2 passengers; ample space under rear deck for uggage; upholstered in genuine leather.

Both models have thief-proof transmission lock; cowl ventilator; side coach lamps; rain visor; windshield wiper; eight-day clock.

THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR

Hupmobile Sales Keep Pace With Growing Knowledge of Values

It is interesting to note how closely the steadily ascending line of Hupmobile sales has followed the increase in general knowledge of, and insistence upon, motor car value.

Ever since the public turned from loose spending to close buying, this Hupmobile sales line has shot upward with astounding rapidity.

This increase in demand for the Hupmobile, after more than a year and a half of steady acceleration, today shows no sign of diminishing. Instead, the shattering of new sales records, both here and throughout the country, is a matter of monthly record.

The constantly growing demand for the Hupmobile goes straight back to the fact that the car is a remarkably good value for the price you pay, and a greater value in its saving in cost of upkeep and of operation.

The final saving, which the Hupmobile owner realizes because of his car's high re-sale value, is a further evidence of the soundness of the Hupmobile as an investment.

STOP VIBRATION EASILY ON FORD

Western Auto Manager Has Way of Ending Usual Trouble on Car

"The value of the special Ford one-piece counter-balanced crank shaft as a means of eliminating vibration in the Ford car is being well demonstrated by every car in which they are installed," according to C. H. Roudebush, manager of the Western Auto Supply company.

"To quote C. F. Shield of the Shield's Kennels in Perris, "there is no vibration at any speed." His letter says in part: "This counter balanced shaft which I have installed has been driven over 5000 miles in six weeks and has been driven very hard, pulling a trailer most of the time. I have not yet taken up any bearings and it runs as smoothly as when it was first installed. The shaft balances the motor so well that it will pass thirty miles at low speed and and make sixty miles without any effort. The absence of vibration I know is due to the one-piece shaft. I am a great booster for it."

"It isn't everyone who would care to drive a Ford 60 miles per hour," concluded Baker, "but there is a great deal of satisfaction in knowing that the little boat will do it if called upon, and without the vibration that is so pronounced in Fords, when operated at a speed in excess of 25 miles per hour."

MOTOR TOURISTS' PATRONAGE PAYS

Canada Offers Proof That Automobile Traffic Is Profitable Business

Here is proof that it pays to advertise for the patronage of the motor tourist.

Returns compiled by the Canadian Department of Customs indicate a 600 per cent increase of motor traffic into Canada. Automobiles entering Canada for touring purposes during the last calendar year totaled 617,285, compared with 93,300 for the previous calendar year.

Of the total number of cars registered in the last calendar year, 615,047 remained in the Dominion for less than one month and 2211 for more than one but less than six months. The parks branch of the department of the interior has caculated that this motor traffic represents an expenditure in Canada of more than $108,000,000, and it is estimated by the same authority that on a basis of 5 per cent "improved roads are worth over two billion dollars without taking into account the service they render Canadians themselves."

The parks branch estimate of expenditure in Canada by motor tourists is based on a stay of seven days for the larger number of cars and thirty days for the smaller number, while the daily expenditure for the former is put at $25 and $20 for the latter.

Many In Factory

There are 181,000 men and women employed in the automobile factories in Detroit, Mich. This number nearly equals the top mark of 1920.

To License Visitors

A proposal has been made in New Jersey to abandon automobile reciprocity agreements with Pennsylvania and New York and issue a monthly license of $1.25 to non-resident motorists using New Jersey roads. It is estimated that this scheme would add approximately $700,000 a year to the income of the New Jersey Highway department.

WET WEATHER HINT

When taking the car out on wet roads, see that all exposed connections are thoroughly lubricated. The splash of the water on these parts will cause rattling and undue wear and rust.

ASSOCIATION WAR ON SPEED TRAPS

Dai H. Lewis, Acting Head of Organization, Files His Objections

"One of the most aggravating nuisances faced by the automobile tourist today is the so-called 'speed-trap,' which is found in so many rural communities and small cities," declares Dai H. Lewis, acting executive chairman of the American Automobile association. "If there is one question of interest to motorists that deserves the immediate attention of state legislatures throughout the country, it is that of the 'speed trap,' operated for most part by officials who depend on the 'costs' in the case for their living, and who figure that every motorist brought before them is guilty.

"If these speed traps really accomplished what they are intended to accomplish, the breaking up of dangerous speeding, they would be all right," Mr. Lewis continued, "but the principal victims of this iniquitous system are the law-abiding, careful-driving motorists, who may exceed the limit unconsciously by a mile or two per hour, or who are simply held up, regardless, and charged with speeding, whether they are in excess of the speed limit or not.

Keep Careful Watch

"Automobile clubs affiliated with the A. A. A. keep careful watch on such traps in their own communities and warn their members to look out for them, with the result that tourists deliberately drive miles out of their way to avoid these towns. This hurts the communities harboring the speed trap artists more than is gained by the small amount of fines collected by the justice of the peace or other official in charge of these hearings.

"In many instances, which are on file at A. A. A. headquarters, motorists have been held up by these officers and after being told that they would have to stay over several days for trial, have been given an opportunity to 'settle.' The motorist, naturally, rather than lose several days of his journey, pays the 'fine' of $10 or more and drives on, passing the word, however, to his home club, in order that other members may be warned against visiting that section.

Proposes Remedy

"The remedy as I see it," said Mr. Lewis in conclusion, "is for the state legislatures to pass laws abolishing the collection of the 'costs' in such cases by the examining magistrate and his able henchman, the constable or other arresting officer, and to make all motorists' fines payable directly to the municipal, county or state funds, such fine to include all costs. Take the incentive of making money away from these officials and they will devote themselves to handling cases of real law-breaking and crime in order to hold their jobs. Certainly the motorists of the country are not going to submit much longer to speed trap methods such as prevail in certain parts of the country. The automobile clubs affiliated with the A. A. A. are making a fight for their members in every instance brought to their attention, but the remedy, to be effective, must come from the state legislatures, and all motorists of the country should combine to fight for such remedy in every state."

GREAT CROWDS TO BE PRESENT AT LEGION MEET

Sleeping Cars Will House Many of 150,000 Persons Visiting South

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 29.—All preliminary arrangements have been completed for the American Legion convention to be held here October 16-20.

It is expected to bring approxmately 150,000 visitors to this city. The only unsolved problem facing this city is the task of accommodating the vast thong of visitors.

The Legionnaires expect 3000 official delegates and alternates and thousands will attend as visitors.

Railroads have made special rates. This special rate applies to legion members, and their families. Arrangements have been made to park sleeping cars here in sufficient numbers to take care of the visitors and delegates who are unable to secure rooming reservations. The hotels have announced special rates for legion visitors.

Among the tasks confronting the convention will be the framing of a program for the ensuing year which will probably include measures for the relief of disabled veterans and election of national officers and appointment of permanent committees for the ensuing year.

Many famous military organizations of old and recent wars in which the United States has been involved will have representatives at the convention.

Many Athletic Features

An elaborate program has been arranged. It will include a number of athletic features and an attempt will be made to reproduce the life of the doughboy on land, sea and in the air. The First American Legion National Olympic meet will be held during the convention. Legion athletes from every state in the Union will compete for national championship honors in track and field events, aquatic sports, amateur boxing, wrestling, golf and tennis. There will also be a national marksmanship contest and a tournament of professional boxers.

The legionnaires have arranged a bout between "Happy" Littleton, New Orleans, light-heavyweight boxer, and Fay Kaiser, as one of the headliners on the boxing program.

The United States navy department has announced the assignment of the U. S. Cruiser Birmingham and four destroyers to New Orleans during its session here. Twelve naval hydroplanes will fly from the base at Pensacola and will give daily exhibition flights.

On one of the convention nights mimic bombing raids will be staged over the business district. Legion national officers are making arrangements for ships to come from England, France, Italy and a number of South American countries to participate in the naval feature along with the American ships.

A reproduction of some of New Orleans' famous carnival features will be on the legionnaires' program for the second night of the convention. There will be three carnival balls, with kings, queens and the customary ceremonials, similar to the city's famous Mardi Gras performance. The downtown streets will be illuminated by 28,000 electric bulbs and will be decorated with flags of all allied powers. Street dances will be held for the overflow crowds.

Sessions on Pier

The legion visitors will have first hand contact with the Mississippi famous levee. Convention sessions will be held on a public pier—a large covered pier, nearly 1000 feet long and 400 feet wide astride the levee. The arrangements committee will be able to seat 14,000 delegates and visitors. The stage will seat fifty persons. Elaborate arrangements have been made to take care of the press which is expected to be nationally represented.

The convention parade will be held on the third day. Fifty thousand legionnaires will march by state groups in the order of membership increase during the last twelve months. More than one hundred bands are expected to accompany the marchers as a result of a band contest which will be judged during the parade. Prizes of $1750 will be awarded to the finest legion band and $350 will go to the best drum corps.

Among the leaders who have been invited to attend the convention are General Pershing, Lloyd George, Former Premier Clemenceau and Queen Marie of Rumania. Word has been received that General John A. Lejeune, commander of the U. S. marine corps, Samuel Gompers, president of the Federation of Labor, and Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of organized baseball, will be in attendance. L. C. Dyett, president of the Returned Soldiers' and Sailors' League of Australia, will travel 10,000 miles to represent his organization.

Gypsies Use Autos

Gypsies in the United States the last few years have abandoned the old mode of travel and are using passenger automobiles and trucks instead of the horse-drawn tent-wagons.

New Cars Produced

The total production of new cars in this country last year was approximately 1,563,000, as contrasted with 2,205,000 in 1920 and 1,876,000 in 1919. The estimated production for this year is 1,800,000 cars.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Proof of Our Progress Show 'Em From Missouri Tags Symbolic of Spirit Messages Worth Reading

By Gil A. Cowan

AMONG other things, in a communication received by The Glendale Evening News, W. F. Tower of this city writes:

"By taking too close a view of conditions we ofttimes get the impression that civilizaiton is not progressing. A backward look of seventy-three years—within the life of some of our citizens—to the conditions as shown in the following old sale bill will be proof we have made considerable advancement:

"'Public Sale—State of Missouri, County of Pike, to whom it may concern:

"'The undersigned will on Tuesday, September 26, A. D. 1849, sell at public outcry for cash on premises where Coon creek crosses the old mission road, road, the following chattels, to-wit: Six yoke of oxen with yokes and chains; two wagons with beds; 3 nigger wenches, two buck niggers, three nigger boys, four prairie plows, 23 steel traps, 1 barrel pickled cabbage, 1 hogshead tobacco, 1 lot nigger hoes, 1 spinning wheel, 1 loom, 3 fox hounds, a lot of coon, mink and skunk skins, and a lot of other articles. Am gwine to California.

"'John Doe."

John Doe—which wasn't his real name, of course—was one of the many "Forty-niners" who brought California into being the garden spot of America.

His sons have made great improvements and the Twentieth century has seen progress and prosperity little looked for by the man from Coon creek country.

John Doe came here to mine, but he knew how to farm better. And it is the Missouri, Iowa, Illinois and other mid-westerners who have developed the agricultural resources to a point of production which far outstrips that of the mines.

Oil, industry, foreign trade, tourists, all have followed in the wake and today California is fast coming to the front, standing first in many things, among the states of the union.

Yet there are easterners who hate to admit these incontrovertible facts until they see with their own eyes and hear with their own ears what is actually transpiring in the golden west.

Make it your business to bring as many friends to California this winter, have them visit Glendale—and we, the people, will do the rest.

Today you were "tagged" for the benefit of the new Glendale avenue electric line, a mighty worthy cause in the upbuilding of this city, but that is not the cause of this comment.

The women who gave of their time and energy in putting over the proposition deserve the greatest credit of every citizen. The money raised through their efforts today represent a final step, a culmination of a dream, the conclusion of a campaign which from the standpoint of civic spirit has bound the various sections of this city closer together in a common cause.

If any of you who read this have not been tagged, get down town tonight to the theatre and be prepared to contribute at least a dollar to the success of another car line for Glendale.

From the real estate men, automobile row, the theatres, churches and cafes are messages today in the advertising columns of The Glendale Evening News.

You will get much information from reading these announcements, for, when a person pays for the opportunity of saying something, you may expect it to be worth while.

Aside from that you will find about 200 other good reasons for reading The Glendale Evening News from "kivver to kivver," for a summary of yesterday's edition showed 100 locai articles and items, thirty-one live telegraphic dispatches by the International News Service leased wire, twenty-three miscellaneous articles, nineteen features and a half dozen illustrations.

Certainly, you are getting your money's worth in The Glendale Evening News each day—and don't forget to start the serial story "The Mucker," first chapters of which appear on the magazine page tonight.

After you are through with The Glendale Evening News, get it into the hands of someone not so fortunate as to be a subscriber.

That is one way you can show your appreciation for the earnest efforts made to give you a clean, home town, daily newspaper, not enclosed in or wrapped about any other publication, but standing alone on its merits.

Goes 190,000 Miles

Gustaf Anderson of Lynn, Mass., claims to have an automobile which holds the record for continuous performances under one master. The car is twelve years old and has been driven more than 190,000 miles. Twice the vehicle has had a new body and three times the radiator has been renewed.

Mistake of Priming

When struggling with a balky engine do not overprime. The usual tendency is to pull out the dash adjustment and to put gasoline into the priming cups. Many times the mixture is too rich to fire. Leave the compression cocks open and spin the engine with the starter. This will thin down the mixture and will probably start the engine.

TRAVELING HOME IS UNUSUAL ONE

Reo Speed Wagon Chassis Provides Foundation for This Auto Bungalow

A description of one of the most unusual traveling homes ever mounted on the Reo Speed Wagon chassis has just been received by Mr. Harry E. White of of the Harry E. White, Inc.

The Auto bungalow, which is a traveling home on wheels in every sense of the word, is owned by Edward Dumas, 1315 Highland avenue, Hollywood, California, and it has been attracting wide attention on his cross-country tour.

"The dimensions of the outfit provide riding and sleeping accommodations for four grown people," says Mr. White. "The sides of the body fold out and down, resting on extension legs, and provide a 12x12 roof. The awning rolls down from the underside of the car roof to meet the screened sides and so providing the necessary shelter.

"The outfit is designed to provide for two full-sized beds; 12x14 -inch sink; forty gallon water tank, large clothes lockers, cook stove with baking oven and every necessity and convenience for touring. Electric lights are also arranged for."

WEST RICH FIELD, ASSERTS OFFICIAL

Chief of Automobile End of Bureau of Commerce Issues a Statement

WASHINGTON — The Pacific coast states will prove one of the richest American territories for eastern automobile manufacturers in the years to come.

This is the conclusion drawn by Gordon Lee, chief of the Automobile Commodity section of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, who has just completed an extensive tour of Oregon, Washington and California.

Lee also made one other important conclusion from his visit, which is that Pacific coast trade organizations can well be patterned after in their work of bringing the public to realize the automotive industry and dealers' welfare are identical with that of every other business in the community.

Resources Great

He also discussed at length the resources of the coast, and said the great development in addition to the natural resources would make that section a veritable treasure house of business in the future. He said:

"Developments of importance to manufacturers of automotive equipment were apparent on my trip throug hthe Pacific coast states. In the first place, the western jobbers and the manufacturers of automotive equipment, as a result of the educational work being carried on in behalf of the jobber and dealer by the Automotive Equipment association, are now making an earnest attempt to follow out better business practices and eliminate the wastes from the methods pursued in the past.

"I talked with many of the leading automotive jobbers and retail dealers who felt that their profits in the future will come from better methods in eliminating the careless wastes which they have permitted in their businesses in the earlier days of their business career.

Live Association

"In San Diego, a live dealers' organization exists which is not limited to a membership of dealers alone but embraces garage, repair and battery men, so that there is being brought together through the combined ideas of these men a more complete understanding of the varying problems of automotive selling in all of its phases. In other words, the dealer no longer feels that the garage man and the battery man are merely a garage and battery man, but, due to a closer and more sympathetic understanding of the problems of each, there is a closer relation established which brings about a co-operation which characterizes not only the dealers' organization in San Diego but throughout the entire state of California as well.

"This is due in a large measure no doubt, to the work of R. W. Martland, the secretary of the California Trades associations, who is carrying on work of such a character as to be of immense value to the manufacturers in the east. Nowhere else in the country has a more complete organization been effected than in California, followed closely by Oregon, where the dealers' associations are occupying positions of importance to the business welfare of the entire community.

Constructive Work

"Within the last year the Washington Automotive Trades association has been organized under the guidance of L. E. Titus of Olympia, and much of the constructive work which has already been accomplished by the Washington and Oregon associations has been started under his direction. The general state convention whica I attended on July 21 and 22, 1922, at Olympia, was the best I ever encountered and I am sure that in no small measure the work carried on by these associations is responsible for the extensive sales promotion which has characterized the automotive trade at the coast.

"National parks draw thousands of tourists monthly and necessitate service requirements which are not to be found in the east at any point. I visited Crater Lake, National Park, Yosemite Valley, Mt. Rainier and the Grove of Big Trees, and on every hand found machines from practically every state in the union. One dealer pointed out the fact that the minute these parks become so overcrowded that the tourists were turned away from them, there were still many parks to be opened up and service stations and equipment would be produced to take care of them. With the Columbia river basin project to be put forth in the state of Washington, 1,900,000 acres of fertile and irrigatable land will be released of such productive nature that every owner of one of the 120-acre plots will be in a position in a year or two to purchase an automobile and accessories to go with it.

Starter Noises

Noise in the starter is a sure sign of trouble, which may be induced by broken or badly worn teeth, a bent armature shaft, a loose armature bearing or badly meshed teeth.

Unnecessary Habit

Slamming of doors on a car is a practice which should be avoided at all times. Persistent slamming racks the hinges and loosens the doors until they become wobbly and hang loosely.

Billy Byrne

Billy Byrne was a p of the streets and alleys of o's great West Side. From ead to Robey, and from Gra ue to Lake street there w ce a bartender whom Billy not by his first name. The question of labor d in transporting the pail, to the saloon across the and returning it, full, to t y back of the feed store wa by the presence of admir envious little boys of the borhood who hung, wide-e thrilled, about these he their childish lives.

Billy Byrne, at 6, was the can for this noble ba incidentally picking up his edge of life and the rudi his education. He glorie fact that he was perso quainted with "Eddie" and that with his own had heard "Eddie" tell th how he stuck up a guy o Lake street within fifty y the Twenty-eighth Precinc Station.

The kindergarten period until Billy was 10; then h menced "swiping" brass from vacant buildings and them to a fence who ran a shop on Lincoln street Kinzie.

From this man he obtain hint that graduated him higher grade, so that at was robbing freight cars yards along Kinzie street, was about this same time t commenced to find pleasure feel of his fist against the a fellowman.

He had had his boyish with his fellows off and o since he could remember; h first real fight came when 12. He had had an alte with an erstwhile pal over t vision of the returns from freight car booty. The gan all present, and as words g gave place to blows, as they a habit of doing in certai tions of the West Side, th and boys formed a rough about the contestants.

The battle was a long one two were rolling about i dust of the alley quite as as they were upon their fe changing blows. There nothing fair, nor decent, scientific about their me They gouged and bit and They used knees and elbows feet, and but for the timely ence of a brickbat beneath fingers at the psychological ment Billy Byrne would gone down to humiliating d As it was the other boy down, and for a week Bill mained hidden by one of the pending the report from the pital.

When word came that the tient would live, Billy felt an mense load lifted from his sh ders, for he dreaded arrest experience with the law tha had learned from childhood deride and hate. Of course t was the loss of prestige would naturally have accrue him could he have been poi out as the "guy that croaked S han;" but there is always a in the ointment, and Billy sighed and came out of his porary retirement.

That battle started Billy thinking, and the result of mental activity was a determ tion to learn to handle his m scientifically—people of the W Side do not have hands; they equipped by Nature with m and dukes. A few have p and flippers.

He had no opportunity to r lize his new dream for seve years; but when he was about a neighbor's son surprised little world by suddenly devel ing from an unknown teams into a locally famous lig weight.

The young man never had be affiliated with the gang, as education was defiled with a r ord of steady employment. Billy had known nothing of t sparring lessons his young neig bor had taken, or of the work had done at the down-town gy nasium of Larry Hilmore.

Now it happened that while t new lightweight was unknown the charmed circle of the gan Billy knew him fairly well reason of the proximity of the respective parental back yard and so when the glamour of pu ilistic success haloed the youn man Billy lost no time in basking in the light of reflected glory.

He saw much of his new hero all the following winter. He accompanied him to many mills, and on one glorious occasion occupied a position in the coming champion's corner.

When the prize fighter toured, Billy continued to hang around Hilmore's place, running errands and doing odd jobs, the while he picked up pugilistic lore, and absorbed the spirit of the game along with the rudiments and finer points of its science, almost unconsciously.

Then his ambition changed. Once he had longed to shine as a gunman; now he was determined to become a prize fighter; but the old gang still saw much of him, and he was a familiar figure about the saloon corners along Grand avenue and Lake street.

During this period Billy neglected the box cars on Kinzie street, partially because he felt that he was fitted for more dignified employment, and as well for the fact that the railroad company had doubled the number of watchmen in the yards; but there were times when he felt the old yearning for excitement and adventure. These times were usually coincident with an acute financial depression in Billy's change pocket, and then he would fare forth in the still watches of the night, with a couple of boon companions and roll a souse, or stick up a saloon.

It was upon an occasion of this nature that an event occurred which was fated later to change the entire course of Billy Byrne's life. Upon the West Side older gangs are jealous of the sanctity of their own territory. Outsiders do not trespass with impunity. From Halstead to Robey, and Lake to Grand lay the broad hunting preserve of Kelly's gang, to which Billy had been almost born, one might say. Kelly owned the feed store back of which the gang had loafed for years, and though himself a respectable business man his name had been attached to the pack of hoodlums who held forth at his back door as the easiest means of locating and identifying its motley members.

The police and citizenry of this great territory were the natural enemies and prey of Kelly's gang, but as the kings of old protected the deer of their great forests from poachers, so Kelly's gang felt it incumbent upon them to safeguard the lives and property which they considered theirs by divine right. It is doubtful that they thought of the matter in just this way, but the effect was the same.

And so it was that as Billy Byrne wended homeward alone in the wee hours of the morning after emptying the cash drawer of old Schneider's saloon and locking the weeping Schneider in his own ice box, he was deeply grieved and angered to see three rank outsiders from Twelfth street beating Patrolman Stanley Lasky with his own baton, the while they simultaneously strove to kick in his ribs with their heavy boots.

Now Lasky was no friend of Billy Byrne; but the officer had been born and raised in the district and was attached to the Twenty-eighth Precinct Station on Lake street near Ashland avenue, and so was part and parcel of the natural possession of the gang. Billy felt that it was entirely ethical to beat up a cop, provided ou confined your efforts to those f your own district; but for a unch of yaps from south of welfth street to attempt to pull ff any such coarse work in his ailiwick—why, it was unthinkble.

A hero and rescuer of lesser experience than Billy Byrne would ave rushed melodramatically in- o the midst of the fray, and in l probability have had his face shed completely through the ck of his head, for the guys om Twelfth street were not of e rah-rah-boy type of hoodlum they were bad men, with an upr case B. So Billy crept along ealthily in the shadows until he s quite close to them, and be- nd them. On the way he had thered up a cute little granite ving block, than which there thing in tne world harder, not en a Twelfth street skull. He s quite close now to one of the o men—he who was wielding officer's club to such excellent advantage to the officer—and n he raised the paving block y to lower it silently and sud- ly upon the back of that unpecting head—"and then there e two."

Before the man's companions lized what had happened Billy possessed himself of the falclub and struck one of them inding, staggering blow across eyes. Then number three ed his gun and fired point- k at Billy. The bullet tore ough the muckers' left shoul-

It would have sent a more ly organized and nervously ned man to the pavement; but was neither highly organ- nor nervously inclined, so about the only immediate ef- it had upon him was to make mad—before he had been but ed—peeved at the rank crust had permitted these cheap- s from south of Twelfth t to work his territory.

INSURANCE MEN WILL CONVENE AT HOT SPRINGS, OCTOBER 3-6

Twenty-seventh Annual Convention to Transact Important Business of Organization

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—The "Vapor City" is all ready for the twenty-seventh annual convention of the National Association of Insurance Agents, which meets October 3-6.

According to reports pouring in daily to J. Walter Dodson, chairman of the convention committee from state associations, the attendance will exceed all previous conventions.

The Eastman hotel will be headquarters.

The main purpose of the convention is to advance the interest of insurance by closer accounting to the public at large and a bigger and better service to the public through the local agents.

The convention will be formally opened on the morning of October 4. Greetings will be extended by ex-Governor Hillman Brought of Little Rock, and Harry A. Jones, mayor. The feature of the opening session will be the annual address of the president, James L. Case, of Norwich, Conn., followed by reports from A. G. Chapman of Louisville, chairman of the executive committee; Walter H. Bennett of New York City, secretary-treasurer, and various committee chairmen. Some of the principal speakers who have been invited to address the convention are Julius H. Barnes, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; Hon. Francis R. Stoddard, Jr., supervisor of insurance, state of New York; E. B. Dunning of Duluth, Minn., one of the regional vice presidents; A. G. Chapman of Louisville; Charles H. Holland, president of the Royal Indemnity company, and T. Alfred Flemming, supervisor conservation department national board of fire underwriters.

The day preceding the opening of the convention proper will be devoted to executive and standing committee meetings and state reports.

The recreational side of the program has been well planned, beginning with the annual "get-together dinner" on the first day, followed by a reception, ball, automobile tour and a golf tournament on the eighteen-hole country club course.

The National Association of Insurance Agents was organized on September 30, 1886, in Chicago. The membership has grown from the original twenty local agents to ten thousand in forty states. The most rapid growth in any one year was during the presidency of E. M. Allen of Helena, Ark., 1917-19.

MAGNETIC RADIO TELEPHONE MODULATORS

One of the most important inventions brought forth in the field of radio telephony during the past year is the magnetic modulator. This development has resulted from experiments made with the Alexander magnetic amplifier by the Radio Corporation while using the latter device at their large transoceanic stations to control the output of their 200 K. W. radio frequency alternators.

The fundamental principle of the magnetic amplifier was adopted into the modulator, and for the first time the radio amateur has at his disposal a simple yet thoroughly reliable means of modulating the antenna oscillations of a low power vacuum tube radio telephone set. Once connected to a phone set these modulators positively require no further attention. This assures the experimenter that at all times he is obtaining the best possible results from his apparatus. It makes possible practical and reliable radio telephone transmission from a tube transmitter even on the part of an experimenter having a very limited knowledge of radio telephone operation.

The magneto modulator is a device that utilizes the properties of iron at radio frequencies to control or modulate the ouput of an oscillating vacuum tube or any other undamped wave generator. The device is extremely simple in nature as well as in operation. It simply acts as a variable resistance connected in series with the antenna circuit (preferably in the ground lead) of any high frequency oscillating system.

One great advantage of this type of modulator is that it gives the non-distorting method of controlling the output of a single for radio telephony. Furthermore it permits the parallel use of a number of tubes as oscillators and thus eliminates the use of special modulator tubes, with their necessary additional accessories and critical adjustments.

They are manufactured in three sizes to render service on from half to five amperes.

Book Reviews

"The Unspeakable Gentleman" by J. P. Marquard, is one of the new books of fiction published by Charles Scribner's Sons of New York. Here is pure romance to be read for the sheer joy of reading. It contains no propaganda, no moral and no problem, marking a definite break in the flood of realistic fiction of the last few years.

This story of action arises from a plot against Napoleon, a succession of flashing, thrilling incidents: duels, midnight attacks, escapes on horseback and by sea in the dead of night, political intrigue, treachery and open fighting, in the course of which there develops the amazing character of "The Unspeakable Gentleman." The depths of his unspeakableness are for the reader to judge when he has read the evidence. The mystery and appalling circumstances which surround him justify any supposition until the startling end is reached.

John Marquard, the author of "The Unspeakable Gentleman," is a new writer and in his generation a new kind of writer. Although belonging in years to the "young writer" group, he differs widely from most of them in his work. Where they have chosen the path of realism, he has plunged headlong into romance. The hero of his first novel belongs to the period when men wore swords and used them freely, fought pistol duels, indulged in piracy on the high seas and drank vast quantities of wine.

The action takes place in an American seaport where the plotters have taken refuge. In the situations arising from this motif the author shows a truly extraordinary dexterity in telling his story so that it completely engrosses the reader, yet at the same time never for a moment forgetting or letting the reader forget the reality of his characters.

Confident belief that prosperity is coming will help to bring it.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— By Howard R. Garis —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE MAN IN THE MOON

"Oh, my goodness!" cried Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy in the kitchen of the hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"Whatever is the matter?" called Uncle Wiggily. "Has the Fuzzy Fox dared to come in, or is it the Woozie Wolf?"

"Neither one, I'm glad to say," spoke Nurse Jane. "It's only my dishpan. There's a hole in it and the water is running all over the floor. You'll have to get me a new one, Uncle Wiggily."

"Do you mean a new floor?" asked the bunny uncle, laughing now that he knew Nurse Jane was in no danger.

"Oh, the water won't harm the floor," said the muskrat lady. "I mean, I'll have to get a new dishpan. This one has been mended so often that it isn't worth fixing any more. Please get me a new, shiny tin dish pan when you go out today, Wiggy," begged Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, as she mopped up the water.

"I'll do that with pleasure," said Mr. Longears, with a low and polite bow of his tall silk hat. "Are you in a hurry for it?" he asked.

"Not especially—why?" asked Nurse Jane.

"Well, when I go off adventuring today," spoke the bunny, "I didn't intend to come back until this evening. I told Uncle Butter, the goat, that I'd have tea with him, and I'll come home early in the evening."

"That will be all right," said Nurse Jane. "I sha'nt need the dishpan until morning, as I will go over to Mrs. Wibblewobble's for lunch and tea. Have a good adventure, Uncle Wiggily, and if I have a new, shiny tin dishpan by morning, it will be time enough."

"You shall have it," said Uncle Wiggily, and away he hopped. All the rest of the day he looked here, there and everywhere for an adventure, but none could he find.

"Well," said Uncle Wiggily, when it was nearly 6 o'clock, "I guess I'd better buy Nurse Jane's shiny tin dishpan before the eleven and twelve cent store closes. Then I'll go to Uncle Butter's for supper. This has been a wasted day for me—no adventure at all!"

But wait, if you please, and see what happens.

With the new dishpan, Uncle Wiggily went to Uncle Butter's for tea. Mr. Butter was glad to see his old rabbit friend, and so was Aunt Lettie, the goat lady.

"Oh, what a lovely, shiny dishpan!" exclaimed Aunt Lettie. "I wish I had one like that, But." You see she called Uncle Butter "But" for short.

"I'll get you one," promised the goat gentleman. "And now we'll have tea and after tea we'll play checkers."

Uncle Wiggily and Uncle Butter had a good time together after tea, until it was time for the bunny rabbit to start home to Nurse Jane.

"Don't forget your dishpan!" called Aunt Lettie, as Uncle Wiggily was going out.

"I have it," said the bunny. "My, how dark it is!" he exclaimed, as he looked out.

"You'd better take my firefly lantern," said the goat gentleman. "Here it is," and he gave it to Uncle Wiggily. With the lantern on one paw and Nurse Jane's dish pan under the other, the bunny rabbit started to hop through the dark woods. Of course it was not quite so dark near where the lantern of lightning bugs in a bottle shone, but outside of that it was very dark.

All of a sudden, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping along, he heard some animal following him.

"That's the Fox, or Wolf, I'm sure!" whispered the bunny to himself. "He's after me! I wonder how I can frighten him away! Ha! I have an idea! I'll scare him!"

Uncle Wiggily stopped beneath a sassafras bush. Taking some of the leaves, he smeared them with sticky pine gum. Then he pasted the leaves on the bottom of the shiny dishpan. He pasted two leaves on the pan bottom for eyes. He pasted one leaf on for a nose, and he pasted three leaves on together for a mouth.

"Now I have something that looks like the man in the moon," chuckled the bunny. "I'll just stand my pan up against this tree and then we'll see what happens."

No sooner did the bunny have his tin dishpan man in the moon

"Oh, my goodness!" howled the frightened Wolf.

made than the Woozie Wolf burst through the bushes howling:

"I want ears to nibble! I want ears!"

"Well, you can't have mine," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Why not? Who will stop me?" howled the Wolf.

"My friend, the Man in the Moon, will stop you!" cried the rabbit. "Look here!"

With that Uncle Wiggily flashed his firefly lantern on the bottom of the shiny dishpan, which looked just like the face of the Man in the Moon, with leaves for eyes, leaves for a mouth and a leaf for the nose.

"Oh, my goodness!" howled the frightened Wolf, when he saw this big face staring at him from against a tree. "I didn't know the Man in the Moon was a friend of yours! Oh, I guess I don't want any ears to nibble this night!" And, tucking his tail between his legs, away ran the bad Wolf.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. Then he took the dishpan home and showed Nurse Jane the face made of leaves, and the muskrat lady laughed until her tail was tied in a hard knot.

And if the roof of the house doesn't try to climb in the collar to play tag with the coal shovel, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the pickles.

APPARATUS AND DEVICES

By Ralph Brown, Radio Engineer

A PORTABLE SPARK SET

The accompanying illustration depicts a small twenty-watt spark transmitter that has been thoroughly tried out. It is a standard army set developed by the U. S. army and was used extensively in our airplanes during the war. It is now being manufactured and distributed to the general public by a reliable manufacturer who built them for the army during the war.

The transmitter comprises a powerful spark coil with a special vibrator that gives a high pitched note, an adjustable spark gap, a pancake helix which permits variation of wave lengths from 100 to 300 meters and is calibrated in steps of twenty meters, a Dubilier mica condenser and all the necessary connections for ground and antenna.

RAPID RECOVERY

Rastus was on the firing line for the first time. During a lull in the barrage he came to the conclusion that somewhere else was the place for him and set off at high speed. The corporal saw him as he was on the point of entering a convenient shell hole, and yelled:

"What yo'-all doin' there? Come back h'jah an' take yo' medicine."

"Don't need no medicine," Rastus shouted back. "Ah's cured. Ah's cured!"

ON YOUR WAY

A couple of former dough boys got jobs in town and commuted to the suburbs, where they tried to maintain small farms, but had to keep on the jump because of increases in rent.

"Move!" ejaculated one. "It's move, move, move all the time. Say, listen, my landlords are worse than the old looeys. It's 'Let's go,' morning, noon and night."

"You said it," agreed the other. "We've got so used to moving that every time the expressman goes by my chickens lie on their backs and hold up their feet to be tied."

Where are your children playing?

In the street — or in their own yard

ARE YOU ALLOWING YOUR OWN KIDDIES TO FLIRT WITH DEAT BY USING THE PUBLIC STREETS FOR PLAY GROUNDS?

EVERY day the newspapers call your attention to someone's child who met with an accident or possibly death in the public streets. These are dearly paid for object lessons that do awaken in you fears for the safety of your own dear ones, but do you profit by the misfortune of others? Do you make immeate resolves to undertake home ownership, that instead of the street your children will have a home yard of their own to play in? Children of today love top and play just the same as you and I did when we were kids, but times and itions have changed to such an extent that the only real safety places for play are in the parks and the yards of your own home grounds.

Fathers and Mothers must give more serious consideration to the y and environment under which their children are being reared.

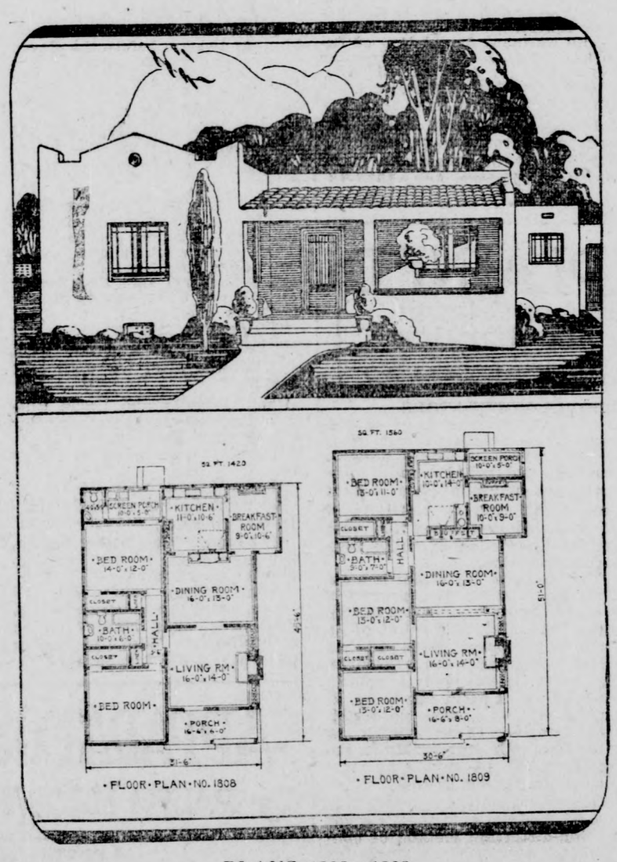

YOUR SON

When your boy becomes a man he will be the living expression of your teachings. His habits of thrift, his character, his true citizenship, or good or ill-fortune will reflect the examples you have given him.

As you influence the thought of your boy now, his status in life will be—your boy's success or failure. When he faces the world as a man, it depends entirely on your guidance of him in the right direction now.

You hope for him advantages which, perhaps were denied you. You have seen real estate opportunities that would have been of immense benefit to you if your forebears had foreseen them when you were a boy.

There are ten such opportunities now to every one then, and they will be of still greater value to your boy when he becomes a man. Visualize the wonderful opportunities for profit which real estate offers. Lead him to thrift and good citizenship. Start him on the road to owning a home, by buying and meeting payments on a lot.

PLANS 1808—1809

Here's another one of those Modernized Spanish home plans, and we think it one of the most attractive featured so far. Every line of its exterior details adds materially to this pleasing home.

Just enough tile has been used on the roof of the porch to emphasize distinctiveness, and from the alternate floor plans shown you really should experience very little trouble in choosing one that will meet all of your individual requirements.

We have tried to embody into the interior arrangement of these plans not only compactness, but maximum amount of conveniences that the house could be cared for with smallest possible labor. Modern conveniences and time-saving creations are just as necessary in the home as in the office and should be given the same consideration.

YOUR DAUGHTR

As a Father, it is up to you to give every ple protection to your daughters and to give them tht time consistent with your circumstances, no manow it bores you to do it.

If you insist on daughter remaining at every evening you should be fair enough to give her tivilege of entertaining at home. Let your daughnd her friends feel free in your home. Strive to make home the favorite gathering place for daughter's ds. If there be constant restraint young folks wi where more sensible persons reside.

It may be a task for you to go after youe when she is out at evening functions or little parout you would be pretty selfish if you denied her eg entertainment of the right sort just because you diwant to be disturbed.

Also you should appreciate the protectin can be to her, never let her shift for herself, but lfter her wherever she may be.

REMEMBER, a home with play ground, flowers, trees and sunshine is the birth-right of every child. It is in the early years of youth that characters are formed, when home teachings make lasting impressions and where love and sentiment play an all important part in creating healthy, practical minds and bodies which in the years to come will reflect success and your own good intentions, thoughts and efforts in their behalf. The educational influence of yhildren's home environments is broader than "Business"—deeper than "Socind calls for any sacrifice you may be called upon to make in creating and ma a practical, convenient, modern home a reality.

Today while labor and materials may be procured at reasonablies, is the time to build.

Here are the names of some enterprising firms and individuals in your city who are so interested in your success that they are paying the expense of puttin page before you. They advise you to make an attempt at home o wning and be your own landlord. They have retained the services of competent home designers who vadly give you valuable advice in regard to plans, etc. Address all inquiries to "Home Building Editor," of this paper.

Heart and Home — Health and Happiness

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

WILL WOMEN STAND FOR IT?

Will women stand for the longer skirts when they have so long enjoyed the freedom of movement that the shorter skirt allows?

I asked this question a year ago and answered it for myself in the negative.

Now, alas, I am pretty well shaken in my faith in my sex. Not only do fashion prophets declare the longer skirts are going to come in, fashion magazines are picturing them, stores are showing them and women are wearing them.

Only a few inches longer, to be sure, only down to a point that once upon a time would have been considered daringly short. And only, I am thrice happy to say, in afternoon and evening dresses. Sport clothes and street clothes are still short, and I hope with all my heart they will stay so. I don't mind the longer frocks for dressy occasions. Putting styles altogether out of the question, most people look more graceful in longer dresses. But I do hope we shall never be fools enough to obey if fashion tells us to wear street and sport clothes down about our heels.

The More Absurd the Better

But I am fearful, very fearful!

It sometimes seems as if the more fantastic, the more absurd, the more absolutely at war with common sense a fashion is, the more readily women take it up.

I am told that summer furs, that charming absurdity, were deliberately put over by an advertising man who bet another man he could make women wear them. He understood the feminine love of the absurd, the fantastic, the impractical thing, and he helped fur merchants to cash in on it to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Do you remember how delicately he paved the way with dainty white furs that didn't seem so inappropriate for summer and were worn chiefly with summer suits. That was only five or six years ago, today we go about with veile dresses and dark furs, and delight in the incongruity of our get-up.

Furs and Pumps

We love it just as we love the preposterous absurdity of going about in winter with our throats muffled in furs and our feet in pumps and sheer silk stockings. Nothing is more absolutely fatal to those same throats as there seems to be a pipe line from feet to throat and the slightest exposure and chill of the feet makes trouble there instantly. I am afraid that I do not help the cause of health when I say that. Not only are young folks spendthrifts in health, but they are in love with their own extravagance in that most precious of all possessions, and anything you say to them about how extravagant such a custom is only makes them the more enamored of it. The only way to fight this folly is to make them realize how independent are beauty and health.

Like Hobbled Feet

It is somewhat this same spirit which makes a fetish of fashion and takes the more joy in following her mandates the more absurd and inappropriate they are. And it is that spirit which I fear in connection with long skirts for street and sport and office wear. I believe the basis of the Chinese custom of hobbling the feet of the high-class women is that those who do it thereby boast that their women do not have to work. "We can afford the luxury of a perfectly helpless woman," they seem to say. The long hampering skirt is the sort of thing only women whose sole job in life is to be an ornament can really afford to wear, except for the hours of idleness. And by that same token I suppose the women who do have to work will be the more anxious to wear it. But I hope not, don't you?

SUNDAY DINNER MENU

Giblet Soup—Croutons
Cauliflower en Ramekins
Creole Chicken—Boiled Rice
Baked Bananas
Orange Salad—Wafers
Ginger Ice Cream
Sponge Cake Coffee

Giblet Soup—Cut the tips of wings, neck, liver, gizzard and heart of chicken in one-half inch pieces. Cut into small dice one peeled carrot, one peeled turnip, one small white onion and two branches of celery. Melt one and one-half tablespoons butter in soup pot, add the meat and vegetables and let gently simmer about fifteen minutes, until a nice brown, stirring frequently meanwhile. Then add two quarts of water and one cup tomato puree. Season with two teaspoons salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper and one tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Tie in a bundle four sprigs of parsley, one clove, and a sprig of thyme, and add to the pot. Let simmer one hour, add four tablespoons raw rice and let slowly boil again for another hour. Remove the bunch of herbs, pour the soup in soup tureen and serve.

Cauliflower en Ramekins—Separate one large or two small cauliflowers, piece by piece, having taken off the outer leaves and cut off the stalks. Place them in a pot of boiling salted water and let them boil rapidly for thirty minutes, till the stalks are tender. When done, take them out gently with a skimmer that you may not break them. Place in ramekins and pour a sauce made of one and one-half of butter blended with one and one-half tablespoons flour and one-half cup milk. Season with salt and pepper to taste, cover with buttered bread crumbs and reheat ond brown lightly in hot oven.

Creole Chicken — Select two young chickens, clean nicely and cut into pieces at joints. Season well with salt and pepper. Put two tablespoons butter in stew pan and when it melts add the chicken and brown it well. Peel and slice three onions and add them to the chickens and let them brown nicely, but must not be scorched. Stir in two tablespoons flour, then add one cup canned tomatoes. Cover and slowly simmer thirty minutes. Wash, remove slices from stem end of three medium-sized green peppers (sweet) remove seeds and cut in thin slices. Add to chickens, cover and again simmer gently for another half hour, stirring occasionally. When well smothered, add a cup of soup stock or hot water and cook again for fifteen minutes. Season to taste and serve hot.

Orange Salad—Pare large seedless oranges, removing every particle of the white portion. Cut in one-half inch slices crosswise and cut slices in one-inch cubes. Arrange a wreath of watercress or shredded lettuce on salad plates; pile orange cubes in center, sprinkle lightly with chopped parsley and, just before serving, pour over cream French dressing.

Ginger Ice Cream—Mix one tablespoon flour, one cup sugar, one-eighth teaspoon salt and one egg, slightly beaten. Add gradually two cups scalded milk and cook in double boiler twenty minutes, stirring constantly at first and afterward occasionally. Cool and add one quart of this cream. Strain and add one-half cup Canton ginger cut in small pieces, three tablespoons ginger syrup and one tablespoon vanilla. Freeze, using three parts finely crushed ice to one part rock salt.

HOLD BOY OF 13 FOR SLAYING

For the death of 12-year-old Mae Locklear, Roland Davis, is being held. The girl died from the effects of a bullet wound, said to have been inflicted by young Davis. The two children are believed to have been playing with a gun which exploded. The city of Atlanta, where both lived, is exceedingly interested in the case which is rather unusual because of the youth of the boy, who is held on a murder charge.

Beauty Chats by Edna Kent Forbes

MEATLESS DIETS

Do you want to reduce? If so, try a meatless diet. Are you suffering from auto intoxication? If so, you need a meatless diet. If you suffer from any number of blood or heart troubles you will find a meatless diet of great benefit. In fact, I know of no case where it hurts to go without meat for a time, and I know of hundreds of cases where the benefit is enormous. You can even gain weight on a meatless diet if you know what sort of foods to substitute.

Here are some suggestions for foods having a high nutritive value which should go into the meatless diet.

Almond soup (or any soup made from nuts, cream and thickening). Cream vegetable soups for instance, cream of asparagus, cream of celery or tomato bisque. Cold salmon served with real mayonnaise dressing, fish with any sort of thick sauce, or fried fish (all frying should be done with olive oil or the various vegetable fat substitutes for lard).

Particularly nourishing entree dishes include croquettes made from spaghetti or nuts, cheese omelettes, cheese souffies, italian gnocchi, rice and nut rissoles, scalloped mushrooms and a heavenly dish made from mushrooms and truffles cut fine, cooked in butter and served with a seasoned sauce made with thick cream thickened still more with egg.

In a meatless diet some of these entree dishes are usually served for the meat course, though we are all familiar with the nut loaf and nut roasts which are really delicious.

R. S. L.:—If your fingers are in proportion to the rest of your hand they will be correct, even though they are short. Short fingers should not keep you from learning to play the piano.

B.:—Olive oil is nourishing to the skin, but a formula composed of olive or almond oil and other ingredients makes a better skin food than just the oil by itself, as each thing contributes something to the merits of the formula. For instance, beeswax, one of the ingredients in a good cream, helps the action of the oil as it seals the pores during the time the oil is being absorbed by the skin, and the other things are equally helpful.

There can be no general rule for the number of times you should use any particular cream. If you are middle aged or older, and the skin is dry, you should use a nourishing cream every day; if you are young and the skin is firm, use only enough cream to keep the skin pliable and the tissues nourished.

C. S.:—I shall be glad to mail you the henna formula on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope.

Wanda:—As alum will dry up the secretions, it is sometimes used on the skin while reducing portions of the body. It is not a healthful process, however, as anything as drying as alum impairs the natural functions.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

They Say That

Did you ever meditate upon the wisdom of being watchful—how much it means, how far it reaches?

But just how much of this useful quality do we have in our makeup? And how do we use what we have?

The housewife is likely to be watchful. Watchfulness is supposed to be a leading virtue of a good housewife. She watches her expenditures, her larder, her maids, all the things, big or little, that have to do with the running of her home. The merchant, to be successful, must be watchful. How large is the number of things he must watch! The stock buyer is watchful of the stock market. How alertly he watches it!

But is it in material things only that we should be watchful in order that we may have success and happiness?

The Great Teacher commanded His disciples to watch, and He said, further, "What I say unto you, I say unto all, 'Watch.'"

It will be conceded that His admonition had little to do with materiality. His life was one supreme effort to teach spirituality. He emphasized the need of spiritual discernment in many of his sayings. Evidently, then, he was not advising watchfulness in regard to material things. He knew there was a higher, more important, watchfulness or awakeness.

How often do we let some trivial event, some thoughtless remark or suggestion, change our train of thought, and, having changed that, eventually work some change in our actions.

Do we watch in regard to the thoughts we let into our mind or the suggestion which we permit to affect us.

Some merely trivial event or thought may so change or occupy our thinking for an hour or a day that if it does nothing more it makes us waste time and mental energy that could be used more constructively.

To watch is not idle advisement. It is more far-reaching than it seems. The thought that sends our thoughts scurrying uselessly or unwisely, the simple act that may become an unpleasant habit, the chance acquaintance that may become an undesirable associate—these and many of their kindred are always ready to take advantage of the unguarded thought. It is wise to dig for the entire meaning of that simple word, "watch," and then to be advised by it in the saying, "What I say unto you, I say unto all, 'Watch.'"

Kansas City Cuts Down on Accidents

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Although Kansas City's population has increased perceptibly during the past year, accidents have shown a decrease.

Figures issued by the Safety Council of the city show a total of 113 accidents for the eight months ending August 31, 1922, whereas 112 accidents were recorded for a similar period in 1921. And motor traffic here has increased 20 per cent in the last year.

Vehicular accidents have been scarcer the last eight months, there being fifty-one as against fifty-four for a corresponding period last year. However, there were eleven collisions in August this year and only three in August, 1921.

Freedom is not license, and license is not the proper kind of freedom.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. A. W.—You reduced from 220 pounds to 150 pounds—70 pounds—in nine months by following our instructions. You find you are nervous since reducing and you wonder if you reduced too rapidly.

I think it is possible that you did, although your loss is only at the rate of about eight pounds per month. However, when it is necessary to reduce so much as you have, it is advisable not to do it continuously. It is better, after the loss of 30 or 40 pounds, to rest from two to four weeks, going back to a maintenance diet—not a gaining diet, you understand—and then to resume your under-maintenance diet for your further reduction.

You did not say whether you accompanied your diet with some vigorous physical exercise every day. Did you do that? Exercise is highly important to keep the muscular system, and in fact the entire system, in good condition. You must build up your muscles at the same time you are breaking down your fat and using it for part of your energy needs.

It is not sufficient simply to know the caloric values of foods for reducing. Did you have enough protein to supply your repair needs? It is important to have from 250 to 350 calories of protein a day for your repairs.

Send a stamped addressed envelope for the list of foods with their protein content if you have not got it. Did you add a large amount of green vegetables to your diet and some milk or skimmed milk?

Try to locate the cause of your nervousness. Perhaps your diet has been unbalanced and that is the cause of it; perhaps not. One should feel very much better while reducing and after being reduced, and if you have no other cause for your nervousness, then I suspect that you have not followed directions carefully enough.

Mrs. H. W.—It is not wise to go in the ocean during your menstrual periods, especially for the first two or three days. While you have done so apparently without any bad effects, still it is not well to continue. Hot bathing is beneficial during the menstrual period but a cold bath might cause a congestion.

For five feet in height you should weigh about 110 pounds. Watermelon is mostly water so it is not high in caloric value. One and one-half pounds is approximately 100 calories. Any food is fattening if it happens that that food is more than the system needs. It is like that last straw that breaks the camel's back.

Mrs. C. P.—Yes, you can reduce while nursing a baby without hurting your milk or your baby. Reduce very gradually, however, and be sure you do the things that are necessary for the maintenance of your health and, therefore, of the baby's.

Have milk, wholewheat bread, fresh vegetables, eggs and fruit, and cut down on the concentrated sweets and fats. They are highest in caloric value. Your milk should improve under this regime.

Miss C. S.—Milk is no more fattening with a meal than it is at any other time. One glass is 160 C's. You can have two glasses of skimmed milk or natural buttermilk for the same number.

It is natural that the loss of weight should show in the face also, and oftentimes faces that have had a frame of fat look rather naked without it. It often happens that some of our deluded friends think that this unframed face is not so becoming. I think this is largely due to the fact that they are used to seeing them with the embellishment.

Don't reduce too rapidly. Perhaps the use of cocoa butter, patted into the face, might help. Certainly, my dear Miss C., report to me again if you like. I shall be glad to hear from you at any time.

Constant Reader—You want to know if there is any cure for spinal trouble for a woman or man nearly 50 years old. If you have any trouble with your spine, go to an educated, highly trained orthopedic surgeon and see what he has to say about your condition. Do not be misled by any street corner fakir holding a spine in his hand with rubber tubes running out of it, demonstrating how all troubles are caused by "subluxations." If the segments of the spine could be moved into place as easily as advertisements would have you believe, they could also be thrust out of place on to the spinal cord just as easily and death or paralysis result. It has happened.

Our 9th Unit being nearly sold, we are about to open the 10th Unit, which is the only piece of property we have ever offered with trees on it. Beautiful pine trees adorn the east edge of the Tract, all the way from Fourth street to Glenwood road. It is a choice piece of property and recognizing this fact, we have cut it into 50-ft. lots, but are selling on approximately the same terms that have made all of our previous tracts so popular. It lies between Fourth street and Glenwood road, with Alameda street on the east and Valencia street on the west.
Although we have not been offering these lots, a dozen or more reservations have already been made, which is evidence of its desirability.
Come out and see it today or Sunday. Drive out San Fernando road to the Moreland Factory, then one block north to tract office, 4th and Alameda.

Folks Want Responsible Dealer When They Buy Automobile, Claim

"People are finally coming to think of the automobile dealer just as they do of the merchant selling other lines," says Lyman P. Clark of the Glendale Motor Car company, dealers for The Good Maxwell, 124 West Colorado street.

"Folks want local responsibility for whatever they buy, whether it be a dress pattern, a kitchen range or an automobile. They want to feel that somebody right here in town is willing and able to guarantee that they will like what they get.

"Folks like to shop for the new car, too. They come in and look and inquire and familiarize themselves with the proposition before attempting a decision. We have long made it a custom to welcome shoppers here, and to tell them all we know about automobiles."

Union High School Smashes Van Nuys

Featured by the sensational playing of Horatio Butts, last year's star halfback of the championship Glendale lightweight team, the heavyweight squad of the local high school yesterday afternoon trampled over the heavy Van Nuys team in the first real game of the season. The final score was 14 to 0, Butts doing all of the point-making for Glendale.

Although the game was nothing more than a practice affair it was conclusively demonstrated that Coach Normal C. Hayhurst's pigskinners will be one of the dominating figures in the 1922 Central league pennant race. In yesterday's contest the Red and Black warriors defeated a team of huskies weighing more than fifteen pounds to the man more than the locals, and it was generally conceded that the team's fast and shifty tactics will carry them through a most successful season.

Captain Fred Stofft and Hori also showed up to good advantage during yesterday's encounter.

REPORTS PROWLER

A prowler was reported about midnight at 1235 East Lexington drive by J. C. Colvin. He could not be located by Officers M. H. Snyder and B. H. Conners.

Preventing a forest fire is an act of mercy and humanity, as well as good citizenship.

REPORTS REVOLVER THEFT

The theft of a revolver has been reported by Father James S. O'Neill from the parish house of the Holy Family Catholic church.

The old adage was, "Strike while the iron is hot." But the rule in industry seems to be, strike while the temper is hot.

MUST QUIT NEUTRAL ZONE

LONDON, Sept. 30.—General Sir Harrington, British commander at Constantinople, has notified Kemal, leader of the Turkish nationalists, that there can be no conference until the Turks withdraw from the neutral zone on the Turkish straits, said a Constantinople dispatch to the Evening News this afternoon. General Harrington has sent another message to Kemal warning the Turks from the neutral zone, but setting no time limit.

Maps for Cyclists

Motorcyclists touring the country are relieved of the trouble of stopping to locate their position. A holder can be made of a frame and fastened to the handlebars, so that the map of the surrounding country is always in view.

READING GLASS

A new rectangular reading glass is supported by a frame at the correct distance above printed matter so that it does not have to be held in the hand.

Quebec Road Map

The Provincial Minister of Roads of Quebec, issues a map of roads of that province, the first of its kind ever issued in Canada.

FOLDING GATE

A Des Moines man has invented a gate that folds as it opens vertically, and which can be opened or closed by pulling a cord from a distance.

Correct Inflation

Only two considerations are involved in the problem of the use of oversize tires—the weight the tire is to carry and the degree of inflation the motorist prefers for his tires.

DRAINING TANK

A tank for draining gasoline from an automobile when repairs are to be made has been equipped with a pump and hose for returning the fuel.

THOUGHTFULNESS

The place where our loved ones are laid to rest takes rank next to the church as a place of thoughtful reflection. Here the visitor feels a silent influence, whether he be a stranger or one who has dear ones buried in the sacred place.

Whether this influence is soothing and restful or the contrary is due in a large measure to the general appearance of the cemetery.

In "BEAUTIFUL FOREST LAWN" everything that experience and reverence can do has been done to make a "PLACE BEAUTIFUL" and a true God's Acre for the peaceful resting of the dead.

FOREST LAWN provides an endowment fund which guarantees that every lot and every grave will be kept beautiful for all time without personal responsibility or future expense to the lot owner.

Everything that art, science and loving care can devise has been planned for different forms of burial—be it earth burial, mausoleum crypt, cremation, columbarium niche or private vault.

Greyhounds to Race for Next Two Weeks

NEVADA, Mo., Sept. 30.—Hundreds of greyhound racing enthusiasts from all corners of the United States began to arrive here today to witness the annual National Coursing association's greyhound racing meet, which opens here tomorrow. The meet will require fourteen days to stage the various events, winding up October 15, when numerous awards will be handed the winners.

One hundred and fifty greyhounds—which is the limit—have been entered for the Waterloo cup race, while more than 500 will make bids for prizes in the futurity race.

Nearly a dozen newspaper correspondents and photographers have registered at hotels. Moving pictures of the races will be filmed and shown all over the world, it is said.

All racing courses in the United States agreed some time ago to close during the national racing meet, in order that owners of the quadruped speed demons may attend.

In Australia, approximately 75 per cent of the motorists depend on American motor cars, about 50 per cent on American gasoline, and 30 per cent on American tires.

VAN NUYS CLUB SHOWING GROWTH

Other Events of Interest In Valley Town Are Given for News Readers

The Woman's club of Van Nuys is preparing for a busy year.

At a meeting held recently it was announced that the club has 212 members at the present time, and the aim is to bring the membership up to 300 during the coming year.

Mrs. C. B. Barkla was the chairman of the committee handling the arrangements for the first meeting of the year.

Among those who addressed the members was Mrs. Charles Steere, the new president of the club. Mrs. E. H. Hughes is chairman of the program committee.

May Lower Cahuenga Pass

It is probable that a program calling for the widening and lowering of the grade at Cahuenga Pass will soon be ready. The county supervisors have arranged for a meeting with the Van Nuys city council to discuss the matter.

The improvement sought will be to reduce the grade from 10 to 5½ per cent, and to widen it. The county road commissioner estimates that the cost of the improvement will be approximately $313,000.

It is understood that the county will make an appropriation for the project from funds from the state automobile taxes. The city is also expected to help.

The present heavy grade is said to be difficult for the heavy traffic carrying products of the valley to the city markets.

Is Given Surprise

E. C. Moore of Van Nuys was recently surprised by a group of employes and friends on the event of his birthday anniversary. Mrs. Moore had prepared a surprise for Mr. Moore also and when those present sat down to eat it was to a real turkey dinner.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Walters of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Ned Ruddell, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stennett, Miss Katherine Garrity, Conrad Outland, Dorothy Blakemore and Mr. and Mrs. Moore and son Ruddell.

The canneries at Van Nuys are reported to be running at full force. The Golden State is said to be running on peaches and tomatoes, while the Van Nuys Packing company is reported to be working overtime, running five nights during a recent week.

There is no immediate prospect of the canneries slowing up, it is announced, as tnere are still peaches and tomatoes to can.

The agricultural department of the Van Nuys high school is planning to greatly expand its work, and an effort is to be made by the school authorities to create more interest in the subject of agriculture, it is announced.

According to present plans high school credit is to be given for the work, the amount to be based on the number of hours of work put in by the pupil, and the skill shown.

BRITISH CABINET CONSIDERS STRIFE

Government Continues In War Preparations; Turk Chief Leaves Smyrna

By DAVID M. CHURCH
For International News Service.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—With Premier Lloyd George presiding, the cabinet met at noon today to consider the immediate summoning of parliament for discussion of the war menace in Asia-Minor. Estimates of the cost of war against Turkey have been prepared and the government is ready to levy increased income taxes.

General Charles Harrington, British commander in the near east, has again demanded withdrawal of Mustapha Kemal Pasha's Turkish nationalist troops from the neutral zone on the Turkish straits. It was not known if a time limit was given to the Turks.

Eluthérios Venizelos, former premier of Greece, and who has been appointed "general Greek ambassador" following the abdication of Constantine, has arrived here from Paris. He said he would be here for some time on a "private visit," but admitted that he probably would see Lord Curzon, British secretary, on Monday.

Seeks Agreement

Venizelos, it is understood, will attempt to work out some agreement with the British regarding Greek aspirations in Thrace.

France has replied to the British communication justifying British occupation of Chanak on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles quoting Marshal Foch as saying he did not believe that the British could hold the position in face of a concerted Turk attack. The French suggested that the British retire across the Dardanelles into European territory opposite Chanak.

Despite opposition from the labor element and a section of the press, the government daily continues its war preparations. The war office is prepared to issue a call to arms. Orders for munitions are being given and troop movements continue under way. The population is calm. The people went about their usual week-end holidaying with apparently no thought of a new war.

Makes Protest

J. R. Clynes, one of the foremost leaders of the labor party and a former member of the government, is vigorously protesting against the war measures.

"Our ministers," he said, "are suing for peace, meanwhile indulging in proclamations indicating war. They are threatening to undertake obligations which could not be sustained by a single military effort."

Dr. Hugh Mitchell Opens Dental Office

Dr. Hugh Mitchell is opening a dental office at 125½ North Brand boulevard sharing the reception room with Dr. J. E. Eckles. Dr. Mitchell was connected with the Philadelphia Dental college for a number of years. He also has had the distinction of being the family dentist for former President and Mrs. William McKinley. Prior to coming to Glendale Dr. Mitchell was in Honolulu for several years. He expects to make his home in Glendale.

MEET ANNOUNCED FOR UNION HIGH

Program Alcohol Education Association Outlined for Glendale

Announcements are now being sent out by the Alcohol Education Association of America, of a meeting to be held in the Union high school on Wednesday, October 4 at 8 p. m. Admission is to be free.

H. R. Bonner, director of educational research, will speak on "California's Place in Education." He will illustrate his conclusions by stereopticon and announce a new rating of the states in public education.

Montaville Flowers, orator and authority on world affairs, is to speak on "A New Solution for An Old Problem."

Captain Richmond P. Hobson will speak on "The Relation of Alcohol to Social Welfare."

The general purposes of the organization have been outlined by Dr. David Starr Jordan, who is chairman of the Scientific Research committee of the organization. In a letter to the Stanford Alumni he stated that it is "to substitute as far as may be, fact for opinion, and science for emotionalism and partizanship in the discussion of matters concerning the effects of alcohol."

Miss Jean Hagerty and H. Sherman Wed

The wedding of Miss Jean Hagerty and Harold Sherman took place Thursday morning, September 28, 1922, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Henry Heide, Cypress and Boynton streets, with whom she has been making her home since April. Rev. O. F. Rider officiated at the single ring ceremony, which was attended by just the immediate members of the family.

The Heide residence was beautifully decorated for the occasion with large quantities of carnations and ferns. The bride wore an attractive gown of brown crepe meteor and a corsage bouquet of gold roses. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony, after which the young couple left by automobile for San Diego, where Mr. Sherman holds a government position at North Island navy station.

PLAN FOR SILVER TEA

At the meeting of the women's guild of St. Mark's church, held Thursday afternoon in the guild hall, it was decided that this organization would assist the Women's Auxiliary, of which Mrs. John Protter is president, in giving a silver tea at the home of Mrs. George Montgomery, 500 Kenneth road, on the afternoon of October 4 from 2 o'clock until 5. Miss McGill of Pasadena, diocesan president, will be the speaker. The remainder of Thursday's meeting was given over to quilting.

At the meeting Wednesday night of the Sunday school teachers, with Mrs. Philip Bernays, superintendent, in charge, plans were made for a Sunday school rally on October 8. At that time all the children, teachers and parents are planning to attend the 11 o'clock church service in a body. Special music and speakers will be provided.

RALPH ALLAN TRIP

Ralph Allan's smile will be absent from the T. D. and L. theatre next week. Mr. and Mrs. Allan are leaving Glendale tomorrow in their new Hupmobile for San Francisco, their former home. They will enjoy a week's vacation.

NEW HEADLIGHT LENS

An automobile headlight lens of an entirely different type is being shown to friends by Lyman P. Clark of the Glendale Motor Car company, 124 West Colorado street, and is creating considerable attention.

This lens, which is half an inch thick, is constructed of cross-sections or segments in such a way that light from the interior of the headlight is reflected downward. None of the light is diffused upward. Motorists approaching a car equipped with such headlights will see the light thrown by them on the road but will be unable to see any glare at all in the headlights of the car itself. The new lens is known as the "Glarescope."

TAKE 'FAMILY SWIM'

The Jesse Smith Ford agency of 115 West Colorado street, made a big splash Wednesday night, when all the employes and their families, sixty in all, dived into the briny depths of the municipal swimming pool for a "family swim."

The pool had been chartered for the affair, and, according to reports, "everybody got wet."

GERALD TOLL ON VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Toll of 1635 Kenneth road are enjoying a week-end visit from their son, Gerald Toll, who is a junior at the University of California.

Mr. Toll arrived from Berkeley last night, having made the motor trip down in twelve and a half hours. He was accompanied as far as Fresno by a fraternity brother.

Glendale friends of Edward Thompson, who graduated from the Glendale High school in June and went north last month to enter the university, will be pleased to learn that he has become a member of Mr. Toll's fraternity, Zeta Psi.

GO ON HUNTING TRIP

James M. Rhoades and party leave this afternoon for Big Bear to spend the week-end on a hunting expedition. Two automobile loads are expected to make the trip.

"I hope I get a few ducks at least," said Mr. Rhoades before leaving.

It is understood the party has spent the past week in cleaning guns and seeing that everything is ready.

ALL-DAY MEETING

An all-day gathering Tuesday at the home of Mrs. John Hobbs at 920 South Central avenue, will mark the beginning of fall activities for the A. H. chapter, P. E. O.

The morning is to be devoted to work for the Glendale welfare department. A luncheon is ao be enjoyed at noon and a business meeting will follow.

Each member has been asked to bring either a pound of some article or some old clothing for donation to the welfare work.

PRESENTED WITH PULPIT

Complying with the bequest of the late Harry Duffield, a very handsome piece of church furniture in the form of a pulpit was presented by Mrs. Duffield at the dedication ceremonies of the Holy Family Catholic church at the corner of Louise stree and [illegible] avenue last Sunday. This is the first time that the church has been provided with a regular pupit for the use of Rev. Father James S. O'Neill since his ministry here.

The pupit is a beautiful piece of hand-carved work made from wood which came from Jerusalem and the Holy Land, and on it is a plate inscribed with the name of Harry Duffield. The pulpit arrived last Saturday and was used for the first time at the dedication exercises.

LEGION AUXILIARY MEET

The members of the American Legion Auxiliary, of which Mrs. Chalmer Day is president, will meet Monday night at the American Legion hall. It is planned to have a speaker and there will also be vocal numbers by Mrs. G. Kaemmerling. At the close of the session refreshments will be served.

ENTERTAINMNET BY CLUB

An entertainment in celebration of the first anniversary of the organization of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Glendale is being planned for Wednesday night at the club rooms, 126 South Maryland avenue, by Mrs. Mary Baxter, chairman of the membership committee, and Mrs. E. Bufkin, chairman of the friendship committee. There will be a musical program and readings, for which a small admission fee will be charged.

LEAVE FOR SAN DIEGO

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McClellan of 738 North Brand boulevard are leaving for San Diego, where Mr. McClellan expects to enter some branch of the automobile business. Mr. McClellan's interest in the firm of Green & McClellan, agents for the Oakland automobile at 115 West Harvard street, has been acquired by Max Green.

HELPS ORGANIZE CHAMBER

E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, addressed those present at the organization meeting of the Inglewood Chamber of Commerce this week. His subject was "City Building and Community Co-operation."

The new organization is said to have made a good start with 305 charter members. One of its first acts was to get behind the Boy Scout movement in their city, it is announced.

NEW C. OF C. MEMBER

The Harvard Gift and Art Shop, 202 East Harvard street, in the new Monarch building, is the latest local firm to join the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, it is announced.

Members of the new firm are said to be boosters for the city, and upon entering business here declared themselves in favor of the work being done by the organization.

WATER AND POWER ACT

One of the features of the weekly meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce next Tuesday noon will be a discussion of the Water and Power Act of California.

Arrangements are being made to have two speakers present and to explain both sides of the question. One of the speakers will be for the act while the other will speak against it. Both will be allowed twenty minutes to present their side.

Chamber of Commerce members will be allowed to ask questions concerning the act during a brief period, but there will be no decision and the chamber will take no action in the matter, according to James M. Rhoades, the secretary.

In addition to the speaking, the regular program will be given, including a report from the railroad and other communities, it is announced.

BANK ALARM FALSE

"False alarm" was the verdict of police officers who hurried to the Glendale National Bank at 1:30 o'clock this morning when its burglar alarm began to ring most loudly. No yeggs could be located and an investigation revealed the fact that the device had been set so finely that the vibration from a passing Pacific Electric train had started it in motion. John Logan, cashier of the bank, was summoned from his home at 122 East Park avenue.

AUTOMOBILE COLLISION

An automobile collision occurred about 5:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon between cars driven by J. E. Livingston of 1331 South Adams street and Lawrence Knapp of 214 West Chestnut street.

THEATRES

The T. D. & L.

Final showing of the desert film, "Burning Sands," will be made tonight at the T. D. & L. theatre and those who have been seen the picture are advising their friends to take advantage of the opportunity of seeing it tonight.

Milton Sills and Wanda Hawley are the stars and the film is one of Melford's masterpieces and is said to rival the film success "The Sheik." Showing of "Burning Sand" initiates a new season of stellar attractions at the T. D. & L.

Sunday's attraction is announced as the picturization of Peter B. Kyne's widely read story, "Kindred of the Dust."

The Glendale

A tale of western adventure and romance, "Rough Shod," starring Charles Jones, together with five acts of vaudeville are the features of the Glendale Theatre program for this afternoon and tonight.

The vaudeville group includes Lopa's string orchestra, Ardo the juggler, Keating and Ross, comedy singing, dancing and talking, William Bronzer, monologuist, and a team of Swiss yodlers.

Mary Miles Minter in "The Heart Specialist" is to appear as the Sunday feature at the Glendale Theatre. In the film Miss Minter appears as an inmate of a Turkish harem.

OWN YOUR HOME AND MAKE MONEY

Donald R. Gillin Declares Renter Does Not Save Like House Owner

Renting versus owning one's own home is a popular debate in southern California, the land of tourists, and an interesting discussion of the subject has been presented by Donald R. Gillin, service manager of the Bentley Schoeneman Lumber company, located at 460 West Los Feliz road. Mr. Gillin says:

"You have heard argumentive men insist that it is cheaper to rent a house than to own one. It may have sounded fairly logical and many a man has been fooled by such one-sided reasoning. But in the long run you find that the man who goes ahead with his plans for a home of his own has saved a tidy sum by investing in a home, while the man who keeps on renting has very seldom, if ever, saved an equal amount. To own your own home is the best savings plan in the world. In spite of himself or his spendthrift tendencies a man saves.

No Security There

"Renting at its best is a makeshift, gypsy way of living. There is no security about it. A family is living from year to year never knowing when they will have to move. There is the trouble and expense of moving, the discouragement of finding a place you like and then having it sold over your head, not mentioning the difficulty of locating in a neighborhood good for your children, then comes the rentals.

"What is it worth to you as a loyal husband and father and a good citizen to have your children grow up in their own home where the surroundings can be chosen carefully by your wife and yourself? Don't you value the peace and security that comes from a home owned and kept up by you alone? How much do you value the respect and confidence of your neighbor?

"By becoming associated with the National Builders' bureau, the Bentley Schoeneman Lumber company has launched a big movement for the benefit of the whole community. The service department of this company has for your inspection views of the ideal home and plans can be secured for homes at the lowest possible costs."

U. S. WILL SEEK TO COLLECT DEBTS

Government Shows Greater Firmness Regarding Vast Loans, Is Decision

By W. H. ATKINS
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The United States government has adopted a policy of "frankness" designed to bring European debtors to prompt terms, under which the vast loans were negotiated, it was learned authoritatively today.

The decision to act with greater firmness is expected to shatter the poverty plea put forth by some of the debtors abroad and to spur some of the financially stronger powers to come forward with debt payment plans that conform more closely with their ability to pay.

Discovery of financial plans abroad to subordinate the American debts to other obligations growing out of wild inflation, proved disturbing today to officials of this government. Some of the smaller governments, who profited greatly by American war credits and have yet failed to pay a nickel in interest upon them, are the prime movers in such financing projects.

Hard to Collect

Consideration was given today to the tentative plan of Rumania, a large debtor to the United States, to issue bonds for nearly $200,000,000 payment of which would take precedence over all other obligations, including those of this country.

Over this phase of the debt situation members of the American debt funding commission evinced considerable concern. The Rumanian government's debt to this country of $41,000,000 may be collected, like some of the others, only after the government wields diplomatic weapons sufficiently effective to compel payments. It developed today that Rumania has ignored formal notification sent by this government that the debt funding commission is ready to open negotiations. Persistent refusal of Rumanian authorities to engage in any discussion of the subject at this time, may lead to strong representations by this government.

Dodges Tax; Sends Check Years Later

BROCKTON, Mass. — City Treasurer Calvin R. Barrett was surprised when he received a certified check for $500 drawn on the Bank of Italy in San Francisco, with a request that it be added to the tax budget.

The check was sent by a man who signed "A friend" and who declared that years ago, when he was in business in Brockton, he was not taxed enough. He urged that acknowledgment be made to the bank whence the check was issued.

Besides other forms of taxing, Congress is taxing the patience of the people.

One Year Warranty Goes With Gardner

"That the Gardner car is constantly being made better, until its quality values have become a watchword with the motor public, is our greatest selling point," said E. V. Jellison this morning.

The Gardner now is equipped with 32 by 4 cord tires, drum type head lamps, a special design of beaded crown fenders and other new features which make it a "snappy" looking job for a standard car at new low prices.

A one-year written warranty, backed by the factory's years of standing, also inspires confidence of the dealer and public as well, according to Mr. Jellison.

The optimist extracts the sweets out of life. The pessimist finds only the acids.

Lecturer Expounds 'Psychic Wirele

RENO—Every man his broadcasting station and re ing set.

That's what Fritz Kunz, an culist, of Adyar, India, said wou eventually come to pass throug the development of mankinc telepathic powers, in his lectu "Psychic Wireless," here.

The lecture, which predicted that direct brain-to-brain radio, now imperfectly known as mental telepathy, was delivered by wireless from a Reno broadcasting station to several thousand radio fans throughout the west.

The lecturer warned his hearers not to try to hasten the development of psychic powers, but to seek first "the spiritual development along the lines laid dow by the great religious teachers."
